Million Homeless, 2,000 Dead Or Injured In Japanese Flood

By The Associated Press

TOKYO (AP)—A great flood that left almost 2,000 persons dead, missing or hurt and a million homeless receded today on the Southern Japan island of Kyushu but dark rain clouds posed an ominous new threat.

The government weather bureau tonight reported a typhoon in the South Seas and said if it continues its present course it might hit Kyushu in a week or lss.

Villages Washed Away

Seven days of torrential rains turned the northern part of Kyushu — an area about the size of of New Jersey — into a vast lake. The hapless Japanese residents fled to any high ground they could find.

The known death toll was 457 late tonight, but the number of missing decreased sharply to 646 as many Japanese returned to their towns and villages. The injured list reached 827.

Police said several villages were washed away and 350,000 homes were destroyed or damaged.

Relief was rushed to countless stricken villages and cities.

Among those saved from the raging streams were American sailors, soldiers and Marines and their families. Some were taken from a stalled train near Moji and housed in the U. S. Army recreational facilities at that Northern Kyushu city.

Landslide Hits Hotel

Fukuoka, the island's largest city with 392,649 population and nearby Moji, with 129,399, were almost ghost cities; their residents evacuated before the surging flood.

Some of the dead and missing drowned in the swollen rivers. Others died as soaked, sliding earth crushed their flimsy homes.

Thirty - seven Americans were rescued Saturday from the Aso Kanko Special Service Hotel, which was nearly buried by a landslide.

The Americans, including 29 servicemen, the wives of six of them and two children, were moved by hastily-rigged breeches buoy across 40 feet of churning flood water and taken to the U. S. Army's Camp Wood for treatment, food and dry clothing.

Three big American bases on high ground have escaped damage so far.

The cloudburst and floods paralyzed Kyushu. Communications and industry lay quiet.

Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Delayed reports reaching Tokyo told of large-scale rescue and relief work by the U. S. Army and Air Force.

Only One Man Lost When Ships Collide In Fog Off Jersey

BARNEGAT CITY, N. J. (AP) — A vast sea search today left only one man missing in a jolting tanker-freighter collision that could have turned into a maritime disaster. Two were injured.

The S. S. Gulftrade's bow knifed into the starboard side of the Brazilian freighter, S. S. Loide Panama, just behind the superstructure as they groped their way in fog 12 miles off New Jersey Sunday night.

Freighter Lists

The tanker backed off under its own power and stood by, with nobody aboard hurt. The Panama, a 25-foot gash in its side, slowly took on a 45-degree list.

An all - out rescue operation, quickly begun, was carried on throughout the night.

Lloyd Brasileiro, New York representative for the 5,408 - ton Brazilian freighter, carrying general cargo said he talked to the ship by radio and learned that 24 men remained aboard. It appeared to be in little danger.

A reported 26 men were taken from the water by the African Endeavor, an American freighter that answered a call for help.

Decks Not Awash

Two other men, both injured were taken into Barnegat Coast Guard Station on a Coast Guard cutter.

The Panama's complement was 53 officers and men, Brasileiro said, but many stayed aboard safely.

The 10,195-ton Gulftrade, suffered only a damaged bow.

As the Loide Panama drifted today, crewmen smiled and waved to rescue ships from the slanting deck. The decks were not awash at any point.

East Gets Rain; Southwest Hot

By The Associated Press

Showers continued today in much of northern and eastern United States, but in other sections it was mostly fair, and in the South and Southwest, hot.

Heaviest falls continued along the North Atlantic Coast from Maryland northward. Lighter showers fell in the Upper Ohio Valley, the Eastern Great Lakes and Middle Gulf States, Montana and North Dakota, and the Far Northwest.

Precipitation in Sunday's thundersqualls ranged up to Baltimore's 4.35 inches in an hour and a half, and Petersburg, Ind.'s unofficial 4¾ inches.

Baltimore's deluge was an all-time record. Streets and basements were flooded and motorists marooned by floodwaters, and winds and lightning damaged property. Petersburg's experience was similar.

Other rainfall amounts Sunday included 2.24 at Lexington, Ky., 2.13 at Elkins, W. Va., 1.83 at Albany, N. Y., 2.33 at Oneonta, N. Y., and 1.24 at Washington, D. C.

State To Assist Kaiser Jobless

DETROIT (AP) — Kaiser Motors Corp. workers faced with unemployment through cancellation of Kaiser's aircraft contracts have promises of aid from state officials.

Gov. Williams told 1,200 employes at a mass protest meeting Sunday that the state would do all in its power to save their jobs.

The workers also heard a telegram from Rep. George Meader, Ann Arbor Republican, promising he would ask Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott to reconsider the action that cut off Kaiser's aircraft contracts.

"If that won't work," the telegram added, "we will ask him to arrange for some other manufacturer to use the Willow Run plant and the work force already there."

Williams called cutting off the aircraft production at Willow Run a "terrible disaster," then added:

"Taking 10,000 of you people from your jobs without a fair hearing on whether ending the contract is justified or not is the most crass kind of poor planning I ever heard of."

Death Takes Retired Marquette Professor, Casey C. Wiggins, 72

HOWELL (AP) — Funeral services for Casey C. Wiggins, 72, retired Northern Michigan College of education professor, today were set for Tuesday at 2 p.m. here.

Living here in retirement, Prof. Wiggins died in MacPherson Hospital Saturday night after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage on a shopping trip.

He is survived by his widow, Annette, two daughters and a son.

Battle Called Off On Profits Tax Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) —House Republican leaders today dropped their move to force House consideration of the excess profits tax bill without action first by the tax-writing Ways and Means committee.

In a last-minute shift of tactics, aimed to avert a bitter floor battle, they dropped this maneuver and put on pressure for the ways and means group to act on the bill.

House Cheers

Apparently, they were convinced the committee would act on the bill —extending the excess profits tax for six months—despite the die-hard opposition of Ways and Means Chairman Reed (R-NY).

To cheers from the House, GOP Floor Leader Halleck (Ind.) announced the leadership's decision not to press a move to get the bill to the floor by a special rule from the Rules Committee.

Halleck said he was convinced the bill would be "handled in the normal manner by the Ways and Means Committee."

Previous refusal by the tax-writing group to act on the administration proposal had led to the situation in which House leaders were proposing to blast the tax bill to the House floor via the Rules Committee, by-passing Ways and Means.

Reed Shakes Fist

A Ways and Means Committee vote sending the bill to the House floor would be a smashing victory for the administration in its battle to keep the tax, now due to expire tomorrow midnight.

Reed, 78 years old and the oldest Republican in length of service in the House, got up after Halleck to declare:

"I'm not surrendering."

His voice was quivering with emotion and he shook his fist in emphasis.

Laniel Selects French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—France's new right wing Premier, Joseph Laniel, goes before the National Assembly Tuesday to seek approval of a 22-man Cabinet similar in its conservative makeup to the outgoing French government.

The 63-year-old member of the small independent party named his ministers Sunday. Nine were carried over from the last government of ex-Premier Rene Mayer, whose ouster by the Assembly on May 21 gave France its longest postwar Cabinet crisis.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and four others were kept in their same ministries in the new Cabinet.

Six of the posts went to former premiers. Prominent among them was Paul Reynaud, named a deputy premier.

Defense Plant Left In Ruins By Fire At St. Johns, Mich.

ST. JOHNS (AP)—This community's worst fire in 50 years left the Saylor-Beal Co., a defense plant, a mass of charred ruins today.

Loss was estimatd at $1,000,000 in the Saturday night blaze that burned four hours, fed by magnesium alloy used to make plane pumps and compressors for the Air Force. No one was injured.

St. Johns Fire Chief Ray Kentfield said preliminary investigation indicated defective wiring between the ceiling and roof started the fire.

Firemen from St. Johns, Ovid and Fowler battled to bring the flames under control

Evangelist Preaches To Crowd Of 75,000

DALLAS (AP)— Evangelist Billy Graham ended a month's preaching in the Cotton Bowl Sunday night before a crowd he said was the largest ever assembled in the U. S. for a sermon in a regular series of revival services.

Graham estimated 75,000 came to hear him preach on "the last roundup." That would be enough virtually to fill the huge outdoor athletic stadium.

Sunday's attendance pushed the over-all total to more than 500,000. Graham said that was the largest attendance he has attracted in any single revival.

Reds May Not Know U. S. Has Them Beat On Atomic Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gordon Dean, retiring this week as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said Sunday there is no question U. S. atomic strength is greater than that of the Russians. But he said there is danger the Russians may not realize that.

"I for one believe that our stockpile has really been a deterrent to a third world war," Dean said on an NBC television program. "However, the greatest tragedy that could possibly come to this country in my mind would be for Russia to tee off a third world war, having minimized our own atomic strength and acting on this misinformation."

He renewed his plea for release of more information on the relative atomic stockpiles of the two countries.

Dunnigan Replaces Doyle As Mackinac Island Chairman

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—James P. Dunnigan, of West Branch, has been elected chairman of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

Dunnigan, a Democrat, replaces William F. Doyle, of East Lansing. Doyle, a Republican, stepped out of office Saturday after a long term as chairman of the commission. He was recently re-appointed to the commission by Gov. Williams.

The commission named Gerald J. Cleary, of Escanaba, vice-chairman, and Dr. Edward A. Ward, of Saginaw, secretary.

Texas Ranchers Watch The Sky And Washington

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Farmers and ranchers of drought - devastated Texas today had their eyes cocked on two important developments — a disaster relief program due to be announced in Washington and promising clouds that started mantling the state.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who over the weekend inspected Texas drought areas and conferred with farmers, ranchers and state officials, promised before returning to the capital that he would announce the details of the administration's emergency program in Washington today.

Heat Wave Eased

The clouds Saturday brought only light rains to East Texas but they rode on new winds that took the edge off the heat wave and brought promise of nicking the drought over the state.

For weeks the winds have blown from the southwest off the arid, hot deserts of Northern Mexico. Weather Bureau officials said as long as the wind remained in that direction, there was little chance that Texas would get relief.

In Washington Rep. Clark Thompson announced Sunday night that the House agricultural subcommittee on livestock will fly to Texas Thursday for an inspection tour of the drought areas.

Emergency federal relief in the form of cheaper feed, price support of livestock, and credit will be welcomed by Texas farmers and ranchers but it can't take the place of what the state needs

Mrs. Rockefeller Quits The Farm

NEW YORK (AP)—Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller seized her estranged husband's Park Avenue apartment over the weekend after suddenly arriving here from an Indiana farm.

With her were their 4-year-old son and an unidentified woman friend.

Mrs. Rockefeller, blonde daughter of an immigrant coal miner, moved into the apartment while her husband, Winthrop Rockefeller, heir to Standard Oil millions, was in Little Rock, Ark.

She talked briefly Sunday night with newsmen by telephonen indicating she was not impressed by a million dollar trust fund being set up by Rockefeller for her, and then announced she would hold a news conference some time today.

The 36-year-old Mrs. Rockefeller and the oil heir were married in a storybook wedding five years ago. They were estranged shortly after the birth of the son, Winthrop Paul, who has since been in the exclusive custody of the mother.

Windshield Wiper Inventor Dies At 87

MONTEAGLE, Tenn., (AP)—Miss Mary Anderson, who invented the windshield wiper, died at her summer home here Saturday night. She was 87.

In 1903 she was granted a 17-year patent for a "window cleaning device for electric cars and other vehicles to remove snow, ice or sleet from the window." The first models were operated by hand.

The idea for the original fan-type windshield wiper came to her during a visit to New York City. She noticed a street car motorman kept his window open on a slushy winter day in order to see ahead.

Chinese Reds Pour 12,000 Into Battle For Seoul Gateway

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL (AP)—About 12,000 Chinese Reds backed by a booming artillery barrage crashed into South Korean positions along the gateway to Seoul today.

Far to the north, Allied Sabre jets blasted six Red MIGs to earth, running their score for the month to 59 MIG kills, only four short of the one-month record set in September, 1952.

The MIGs were shot down as the Sabres flew a tight cover over 36 fighter-bombers striking at Namsi, near Sinuiju in Northwestern Korea.

The Reds poured a division or more into three-day-old battles for two outpost hills 40 miles due north of the capital just as South Korean infantrymen had swept to the crest of one of the hills.

The furious Red attack—unusual because it came in broad daylight —hit a two-mile-wide stretch on the Western Front. The targets were bloodied outposts Bak and Queen, rising 500 to 800 feet.

At last report the Reds held both, but fighting raged at the foot of the outposts as the sturdy ROKs regrouped and counterattacked.

There was an unconfirmed report that one Red battalion — 500 to 750 troops—had broken past the heights and was assaulting the Allies' heavy, dug-in line.

The Communists, under cover of artillery that one Allied officer said hammered hills "like an anvil." slammed back ROK 1st Division infantrymen who had clawed up the slopes of Outpost Bak.

The ROKs counted 42,000 incoming rounds of mortar and artillery up to noon as the Communists concentration two-thirds of their entire day's shelling in the narrow sector.

Punishment For ROKs

American and South Korean big guns—including huge 240 millimeter guns—struck back at the advancing Chinese and their support areas.

The Red thrust was another in a series the Chinese have hurled at South Korean units in recent weeks—apparently aimed at punishing them for resisting an armistice.

On the Eastern Front, 3rd ROK Division troops recaptured towering Lookout Mountain for the seventh time in four days in a four-hour battle early Monday.

Once atop the 1,500-foot peak, the ROKs beat back two Communist charges.

Lookout is the western anchor of a frontline formed after the Reds drove up to five miles south in the past two weeks.

Tension Relaxed In East Berlin; 32 Rebels Shot

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP) — Germany's Communist Eastern zone returned closer to its occupation normal today as many Soviet troop units moved back to their barracks, curfews were relaxed and announcement was expected soon of the lifting of martial law.

German police took over patrolling in parts of East Berlin and units of the two armored divisions which quelled the June 17 workers' revolt there withdrew. The curfew was cut to four hours nightly.

Similar action was taken in many of the other revolt centers.

Throughout the Soviet zone, Red leaders staged "loyalty" rallied to bolster East German puppet Premier Otto Grotewohl's shaky regime.

Continuing their policy of decommunization to place the population and restore German efficiency, the East government gave back more plants and shops to former private owners and returned farm lands to dispossessed owners.

Along with reports of numerous amnesties — the release, for example, of 700 men jailed in Halle for infractions of economic laws now virtually abolished — the West heard reports of more strike leaders arrested.

Underground sources said also there had been three more executions by Russian firing squads, bringing the reported total of such dead to 32. Scores of others died in the strike - riots, most of them at the hands of the excited and frightened German Communist police. Allied officers agreed the Russians had done most of their firing over the heads of the rioters.

Italian Premier Reforms Cabinet

ROME (AP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi handed his government's resignation to President Luigi Einaudi today and Einaudi began consultations expected to end in his asking De Gasperi to form his eighth Italian Cabinet aligned with the Western Allies.

The Premier's action was a formality necessitated by Italy's election of a new Parliament in June.

In that voting, the center bloc dominated by the 72-year-old Premier's Christian Democrats won a majority of 16 seats in the 590-member Chamber of Deputies and seven seats in the 243-member Senate.

Einaudi planned a round of conferences with the nation's political leaders before asking one of them to form a new cabinet.

Though most observers anticipated De Gasperi eventually would be asked to form the government, there was some speculation he might prefer a younger member of his party to take over the Cabinet reins. In that event, De Gasperi probably would continue as foreign minister, a post he has held with the premiership.

Beer Beats Heat

AARHUS, Denmark (AP)—Police at Skanderborg arrested a man for drunken driving Sunday. He said he drank 125 bottles of beer during the Sunday heat wave.

"It was so hot I thought I had to do something about it," he explained.

Accord Reached With Rebellious Korea President

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

SEOUL (AP) — The Allies today asked the Reds to agree immediately to a date for signing a Korean truce, indicating they have either persuaded rebellious President Syngman Rhee to agree to an armistice or have decided to go ahead without his okay.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, told the Reds in a letter delivered at Panmunjom that the U. N. Command will enforce truce terms "to the limit of its ability."

His letter was delivered shortly after he conferred in Seoul with Rhee; President Eisenhower's personal envoy, Walter S. Robertson, and other top U. S. officials.

Solution Believed Found

Although the meeting was secret, the UNC's readiness to go ahead with its truce plans indicated it had found some sort of solution to the problem of the stubborn South Korean leader's refusal to accept the present truce terms and his threat to fight on alone if an armistice is signed on those terms.

There was no immediate comment from Rhee on Clark's letter.

The ROK President's arbitrary release of 27,000 anti-Red Korean War prisoners had frozen the truce talks, just as the negotiators appeared on the verge of final agreement.

The Reds protested angrily in a full-dress truce session June 20, demanding recapture of the prisoners and assurance the UNC would control Rhee if an armistice were signed.

Can't Recapture POWs

Clark's answer, delivered at Panmunjom by liaison officers, told the Reds:

1. It would be "impossible" to recapture the released POWs.
2. The UNC will "make every effort" to gain South Korean cooperation in a truce.
3. "Where necessary, the UNC will, to the limits of its ability, establish military safeguards," to enforce truce terms.
4. The truce would be a "military armistice . . . between the military commanders of both sides" (answering a Red question if the South Korean nation would be included in a truce).
5. The UNC "does not exercise authority over the Republic of Korea, which is an independent, sovereign state . . ." but it "does command" the ROK Army.
6. The UNC still considers the prisoner breakout an "escape" as far as it is concerned. Clark said the prisoners were " 'released' in that the ROK government, without the knowledge of, and contrary to the intent of, the UNC planned and

London Paper Says Sick Churchill, 78, Should Retire Now

LONDON, (AP)—The surprise illness of Prime Minister Churchill aroused dismay in much of the British press today and the pro-Labor Daily Mirror urged Sir Winston to retire.

The 78 - year - old Conservative leader was reported to have accepted cheerfully the orders from his medical advisers to take a complete rest for at least a month.

He and Lady Churchill were luncheon hosts Sunday to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Soames, and Lord Beaverbrook, publisher of the Daily Express, at their estate near Westerham, 25 miles southeast of London. Soames said later:

"Sir Winston's condition is not such that it is likely either to deteriorate or improve from day to day. He is simply suffering from general fatigue which probably is more mental than physical."

The Daily Mirror, normally independent but favoring the Labor party's politics, declared in a front page editorial:

"He owes it to himself, to his family and to the country to retire from the premiership. He may then still be with us at 88, still holding in our hearts a place of affection he so richly deserves and still benefiting the world with his counsels."

The London Times, a supporter of the Churchill government, said his service to Britain "must now come from his incomparable experience, the sweep of his judgment and his flashes of vision, not from detailed application, however stimulating, to departmental affairs."

MENOMINEE—Muncipal Judge Wilfred J. Hupy today invoked a new schedule of fines for speeders in which the violator's fine is scaled to the offending speed. As a result, four speeders paid $31 more htan they would have paid under the old schedule in which the usual fine was $5 plus $3.30 costs. Hupy announced yesterday he would invoke the new schedule recommended by the Michigan Municipal Judges Association for state uniformity and designed to reduce accidents by controlling the speed of automobiles on city streets.

NEGAUNEE — Gov. Williams believes a striking tourist attraction could be built around Negaunee's old mine pits. He made that observation recently during a brief tour of the city and after he had visited the open pit where iron ore first was discovered in Michigan.

Chapekis To Speak At Veterans' Meet Here On Thursday

Nicholas P. Chapekis, Delta County prosecuting attorney, will speak Thursday evening, July 2, at a meeting of disabled war veterans sponsored by Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary at Legion Hall.

The opening meeting, to which all disabled veterans are invited to attend whether they are DAV members or not, will start with a pot luck supper to be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Following the supper the Chapter's new flags and colors will be dedicated.

To be eligible for membership in the DAV the war veterans, both men and women, must have been wounded, gassed, injured, or have a hospital record or medical discharge in time of war, and be honorably discharged.

Flasher Signal:

State Gives C&NW Nine Months To Install One

The Michigan Public Service Commission has ordered the Chicago & North Western Railroad to install automatic flashing light signals at its Stephenson Avenue crossing in Escanaba within nine months.

Action of the Public Service Commission follows a long controversy on the necessity for the installation and a public hearing at which there was opposition to the automatic signals.

The C&NW filed application Jan. 28, 1953, requesting the hearing after its proposal for improving the crossing protection was rejected by the Escanaba City Council.

An inspection was made in August of last year and Michigan State Police in their report recommended installation of automatic flashing-light signals at the crossing, with the C&NW agreeing to bear the entire cost and expense.

Need Determined

Hearing in the matter was held by the Public Service Commission at the Court House in Escanaba on April 28.

Those who protested at the hearing testified in substance "that they were for manually controlled flashing-light signals and that they were interested more in what would happen to the four watchmen now employed at the crossing and the children passing over the crossing, whom they contended should have watchman protection."

The Commission reported today that it finds and holds "there is definite need for the installation of automatic track-circuit-operated flashing signal lights at said crossing and therefore the application should be granted."

Railroad Pays Cost

The Commission thereupon ordered, effective within nine months, the installation of the automatic flasher signals in lieu of the present flagman protection at the crossing.

Cost of installation and maintenance and operation will be borne solely by the railroad.

A 12-foot cantilever arm, equipped with a pair of back-to-back flashing signals will be attached to each signal extending over Stephenson Avenue, controlled by spring switches on the rails. There will be a time element relay east of the passenger station to prevent unnecessary operation of the signals when a train is standing at the station.

It was further ordered by the Commission that after the installation is in operation if it is found that street traffic is being "excessively delayed" the railroad shall install additional track circuits and element relays to relieve this condition.

Birds Eye Logs Lost In Lake Michigan

A raft of logs valued at $4,000 to $5,000, being delivered from South Fox Island to the Birds Eye Veneer Co. here, was lost Saturday night, in Lake Michigan about 15 miles off St. Martin's Island, the company said this morning. About 80,000 feet of logs were lost.

The raft was scheduled to arrive here today.

John Ingwerson, Traverse City, in charge of the tug that was towing the raft, said the lines got tangled up and he was afraid the tug was going to capsize, the company said. Ingwerson cut the raft loose.

Two Children Hurt By Cars

Two children were injured, neither seriously, in traffic mishaps in Escanaba over the weekend. Both accidents occurred when the youngsters ran into the street and were struck by cars.

Michael McKnight, 5, son of Margie McKnight of 1215 Seventh Ave. S., suffered abrasions on the knees, elbows and face when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. William J. Duchaine, 1305 Eighth Ave. S. in the 1200 block Seventh Ave. S.

The child is in St. Francis Hospital receiving treatment and his condition today was reported "pretty good." The accident occurred at 1:35 p. m. Saturday and the child was taken to the hospital by John Olinger.

At 1:45 p. m. Saturday a car driven by Oscar Bolm, Gladstone Rte. 1, struck Carol Konyn, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Konyn, Marinette, when the child ran into the street in the 1100 block, Ludington.

The child suffered a cut on the right temple and was treated in the office of a physician and released.

Escanaba police reported that no tickets were issued to drivers in either of the mishaps.

Reckless Driver Is Fined $25 And Costs

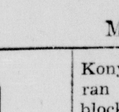

Ralph Olson, Escanaba Rte. 1, charged with driving a car in the city of Escanaba in a reckless manner, was fined $25 and assessed court costs of $8.25 Saturday morning in the Escanaba justice court of Judge Henry Ranguette.

Olson was arrested June 21 by Escanaba city police. On that day, it was charged, he was driving a car on Washington Ave. when the car jumped the curb and broke a city light pole.

At that time he was released on bond, pending his appearance Saturday.

Ebasco Report Provides Vast Information About Peninsula

SATURDAY the Escanaba Daily Press and other newspapers of the Upper Peninsula began the publication of a series of seven articles summarizing the engineering study of the economic resources of the Upper Peninsula, as prepared by Ebasco Services of New York. The second article in this series is published today and the remaining articles will be published daily until completed next Saturday.

You need not be an engineer to gain a tremendous amount of value from reading the Ebasco Report. It will provide you with a great deal of information about the Upper Peninsula that you may never have realized. We suggest that you clip the articles as they are published and keep them together as a reference source for information about the Upper Peninsula.

The survey that has been completed by Ebasco Services is a comprehensive one, touching all phases of the Peninsula's assets and liabilities. It tends to point the way towards the industrial expansion of the area and suggests where the emphasis should be made in such a program.

It is interesting to note as you read the Ebasco Report the great amount of emphasis that the report has placed upon the forest resources of the Upper Peninsula, what they mean to the economic strength of the area and how these resources could be more fully exploited.

Too many people have taken the attitude that the forest lands of the Upper Peninsula are depleted to the point where we must search in new directions for employment of our people. The Ebasco Report proves that this is not true, that we still possess tremendous natural wealth in forest resources.

In their study the Ebasco engineers learned that the people of the Upper Peninsula form the greatest asset of the area. The workers of this area have proved their capabilities in productivity, in being adaptable to new methods and in excellent attitude towards industry, Absenteeism is extremely low, production is high. That encourages industrial development.

Read the Ebasco Report daily and you will possess a lot more knowledge about your own Upper Peninsula as a result of reading this engineering study, presented in non-technical language.

EDC Goal Must Be Won By Persuasion

THERE have been some striking examples this year of Congress attempting to practice foreign policy by reprisal, a sort of "slap hands across the sea" approach.

Some time back a serious effort was made to attach to a standard appropriation bill a rider stipulating that if the UN should admit to membership any aggressor country (such as Red China), the U. S. should cut off all financial support for the world organization.

The personal intervention of President Eisenhower prevented final approval of this punitive proposal.

Now the House Foreign Affairs Committee has approved an amendment to the foreign aid bill that would call for withholding more than $1 billion in assistance if the European army is not created in the coming year.

Admittedly the European Defense Community is a major objective of the total western defense program. There is no question, either, that serious concern is felt over the fact that thus far only Western Germany has ratified EDC.

But the compliance of the other five West European parliaments cannot be bought for $1 billion, or any price at all. The idea that they should respond to this kind of dollar pressure is fantastic.

Nothing could be better calculated to fuel the Communist propaganda claim that the United States is practicing dollar imperialism. It is exactly designed to delay, not speed up, the ratification of the defense pact.

For one of the chief obstacles to that goal is the reluctance of European nations to enter an arrangement they believe will cut sharply into their national sovereignty. None takes eagerly to the idea of having an international body—the EDC—exercise authority over a substantial portion of their armed forces.

Imagine the furor that would arise in Congress if America were being asked to join an international army. It is a big step, hard for any nation. Yet these same U. S. lawmakers seem to think it is perfectly all right for them to demand that others do what they are not willing to do. They would even penalize the failure to do it.

If this objective is to be achieved, it must be won by persuasion. It cannot be enforced by the dictate of irritated American lawmakers.

Evidence indicates the Senate will show a keener appreciation of this fact than many House members have exhibited, though it was the Senate which promoted the Red China-UN rider.

Fair-minded Americans probably are hoping that this will be the last misguided effort by the Congress to rap European nations on the knuckles with a ruler. We are supposed to be partners, not teacher and pupil.

When youngsters grow up they should get over the habit of blowing bubbles and waiting for the breaks.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

(Send your question in care of this paper.)

amphibian—Miss K. C. H., Portchester, N. Y.,—For a time, fifteen or twenty years ago, the spelling amphibion was used interchangeably with amphibian to designate an airplane that could land on or take off from either land or water, but the spelling with "o" is no longer used now.

graduate—"Which is the preferred usage, 'He graduated from college,' or 'He was graduated'?"—C. E. L., Kansas City, Mo.

Many years ago it was the college that graduated a student, or, that is, that "graded" him upward; named him as having completed a course. That usage still survives, but nowadays it is just as proper to say, "He graduated from college," as to say, "He was graduated from college."

envelope — Miss E. C. A., Shorewood, Wis.—Recent dictionaries indicate that envelope may be pronounced, with equal propriety, either "EN'-vuh-LOPE" or "ON'-vuh-LOPE"; or, if spelled envelop it is pronounced "en-VEL-up."

object—"Is this sentence correct: 'She invited you and I'?"—M. B. E., Waco, Texas.

There has been on change in the grammatical rule that the object of a transitive verb is in the objective case. I is nominative; the objective is me. Accordingly the sentence should be, "She invited you and me." Similarly, one should say, "She invited her and him, or him and me, or them and us."

savanna, savannah—Mrs. M. B. A., Savannah, Ga.—When dealing with a word which may properly be spelled either of two way, editors of dictionaries must take a decision which shall be shown first. Thus, the treeless plain of the southern United States may by spelled either savanna or savannah. The term comes from Spanish sabana, and the gerater usage favors the spelling savanna. Accordingly, that spelling is given first position in most dictionaries.

The Doctor Says . . .

Notion That Pills Contain Tapeworm Eggs Wild Idea

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Every once in a while this column has correspondence with the strangest ideas. That which is contained in the first letter is an example.

Q—Recently I heard of some people who have been given reducing pills containing the eggs of tapeworms. One girl I know left two of these pills near a sunny window and in a few days the eggs hatched. How can manufacturers get away with this? M. J. M.

A—This is really a wild story. I do not believe that any manufacturer ever puts reducing pills on the market containing tapeworm eggs. What was in the pills is anybody's guess, but what probably happened is that the two pills placed in the sun became contaminated from something else while they were lying in the open.

Q—I have alopecia areata. Someone told me that the treatment for dog mange is effective. Is this true? Should I consult a dermatologist? E. E. M.

A—You should consult a dermatologist and I doubt that he would recommend the same treatment as that for dog mange.

Q—Can you tell me anything about lipodystrophy? Mrs. M.

A—This is a disturbance of the metabolism, or use by the body of fat. There are several different kinds, the treatment depending on which is present, the age of the patient and many other factors.

Q—Please say something about a chordotomy operation. How long does the operation last, and what are the aftereffects? Mrs. B. F.

A—This operation involves cutting one or more nerve tracts of the spinal cord. This kind of nerve tissue does not grow back together again, and the results are therefore permanent. It completely eliminates all actions of the nerves which have been cut, causing paralysis and complete absence of pain. It is useful on rare occasions, but not a procedure to be entered into lightly.

Q—I am an aged man and have several skin marks on my face which cause intense itching. What causes them and how can I get them off? M. M.

A—There are so many kinds of skin lesions that I cannot tell what this might be. Something of this sort, however, particularly in an aged person, should not be neglected because skin cancer is a possibility, though itching with it is unusual. Ask your physician or a skin specialist to look these over.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Red-faced admirals are trying to shush up a spicy scandal at the Key West naval base involving some lewd movies and a strip-tease dancer who wrestled with enlisted men at a Navy "smoker."

Aftermath of the unusual Navy entertainment has been the transfer of base commander Adm. Irvin T. Duke to Charleston, S. C., the jailing of Lieut. Comdr. Jerry McDaniel, while the chaplain who protested the strip-tease act and lewd movies, Lieut. Comdr. Greer Imbrie, is being transferred to inactive duty.

Chaplain Imbrie had first protested the lewd movies to the naval air commandant Capt. A. E. Buckley. When this did not stop a second show he wrote direct to Washington. His reward will be retirement—on July 31—though the Navy will not admit the two have any connection. Captain Buckley's "reward" was heart trouble. He was immediately confined to his bed with a heart attack and remained inaccessable to certain visitors.

Real scandal in the end may be the way the Navy railroaded Commander McDaniel as the scapegoat. McDaniel is not an Annapolis man. Other top brass are. He was held 40 days virtually incommunicado in the Navy brig without a charge being filed against him, which is contrary to the bill of rights. While he was held, Navy brass scratched their heads as to what charges they should file against him.

VITAMINS, NOT DOPE

After all, it would be highly embarrassing to charge him with arranging a strip-tease show under Navy auspices. So Navy investigators raided his desk, pounced on a bottle an dtried to show that McDaniel was taking dope. It was also suggested he was acting as if he might commit suicide.

But the plot was exploded when a Navy doctor, Lieut, William E. Perednia, admitted that superior officers had come to him with the dope charge and the suicide suggestion. Perednia further testified that the seized dope was nothing but vitamin pills and that McDaniel had no suicidal tendencies.

The trouble all began from a most worthy motive—raising a record $70,000 for Key West charities. Someone suggested it might be a good idea to borrow some spicy films from the local American Legion and throw a "smoker." Captain Buckley did not disapprove of the idea, and his subordinates felt they had the go-ahead signal.

There is no record that Admiral Duke, himself, was consulted, though he was responsible for all activities at the base. The "smoker" idea was taken up with his office, however, and his subordinates requested only that it be cleared with the city authorities.

CITY FATHERS APPLAUD

The city fathers not only gave their OK, but turned out enthusiastically for the first show. Holding down the bald-headed row at the first show were Key West's Mayor C. E. Harvey, City Manager Dave King, Chief of Police Joe Kemp, Superintendent of Schools Jack Guthrie, City Commissioner John Carbonell and Florida Circuit Judge Raymond Lord.

Some complained afterward that the movies were not spicy enough, so a second "smoker" was scheduled, again for charity. But Chapiain Imbrie had heard that the movies were risque. He called on Captain Buckley and registered his objections.

Buckley gave the chaplain a brush-off, but took the precaution to issue oral orders that the Navy should have nothing to do with the second "smoker."

Civilian employees were left free to do whatever they wished, however, and Howard McDonald,.a civilian clerk, went ahead with the arrangements where McDaniel had left off. McDonald by-passed the American Legion, obtained juicer films, and after the movies, Sheila, the strip-tease lady, mysteriously appeared and began shedding her clothes. Finally, she called to the crowd: "Want to wrestle!" Three obliging sailors then assisted in her act.

EYEBROWS LIFTED

Following this second smoker, Chaplain Imbrie appealed to the Navy's head chaplain for advice, and wrote a full report to Washington.

This raised eyebrows right up to the Secretary of the Navy. On March 6, McDaniel was thrown into the brig. And McDonald, the civilian clerk, was suspended. A week later, Captain Buckley was rushed to the hospital with a heart attack. It wasn't long afterward that Admiral Duke was promoted to be commander of the Sixth Naval District and was transferred to Charleston, S. C.

McDaniel, in his guarded cell, was allowed to see no visitors except his wife, without a Navy chaperone present. He was denied all mailing privileges, which prevented him from writing letters of protest. Formal charges were not filed against him until April 16—40 days later.

Note—Admiral Duke and Captain Buckley are Annapolis graduates. McDaniel worked up from the enlisted ranks to lieutenant commander. His fitness reports consistentiy rated him among the top 10 per cent of Navy officers, but he doesn't belong to the so-called "Annapolis protective association."

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— An ineffectual inspection law and a congressional threat to cut their budget isn't all the Food and Drug Administration has to worry about at the moment.

Another headache is that consumer protection is split in two: FDA concerning itself with the purity of the manufactured product and the Federal Trade Commission with policing of advertising and selling practices.

"This results in inefficiency and duplication of personnel for both FRA and FTC," declares Rep. Leonor Sullivan (D., Mo.).

For instance, when the same false claim is made in advertising and also on the label, the ad is subject to the FTC Act; the label violation comes under the Food and Drug Administration.

"Both should be FDA's baby," says Mrs. Sullivan.

The irate lady legislator cites examples:

"A few years ago a clever promoter, capitalizing on the nation's tastes for alcohol and vitamin pills, combined the two; bottled them at a cost of about 12 cents and retailed same for $3.50."

Or take chlorophyll, which Mrs. Sullivan admits has a pleasing green color. "In spite of the fact that science hasn't been able to prove that it deodorizes," she points out, "almost every product taken externally or internally advertises the magic ingredients."

Some important examples of FDA's work with labels include cases where drug labels are switched by mistake — either a mix-up with two different drugs or where half strength products are labeled double strength.

Most drug work and much of the cosmetic work falls under what FDA dubs dangerous commodities.

In the event of a budget cut it's easy to see that while work on filthy food and economic cheats will have to suffer, FDA's protection against illegal sale of drugs or harmful cosmetics can't be lessened.

Recently, in cooperation with the police department in New Orleans, FDR raided a drug store and confiscated some 50,000 barbiturate pills being sold without prescription.

The problem is widespread. Because of funds FDR must confine work to spot-checking.

A new drug racket has developed in recent years: imitations of expensive drugs which look like the real McCoy but have little or no activity. A typical case involved tablets with estrogenic substance used to alleviate the symptoms of menopause. The genuine tablet costs 40 to 50 cents so the racketeer could still make plenty by selling weak pills cheaper.

FDA is trigger - quick in investigating reports of dangerous cosmetics.

Touring their Washington laboratories with Mrs. Sullivan, this reporter watched Dr. John Draize, chief of the cosmetic testing branch put the congresswoman to work testing lipstick which can be harmful. FDA solves the problem by kiss-proofing rabbits with lipstick and placing them under ultra-violet lamps. These rabbits also serve to try out home permanent solutions and fancy beauty preparations.

FDA has pushed off the market bubble bath and shampoo products which caused eye injury.

They can tell you about a nail polish base supposed to make polish stay on longer. What it actually did was turn nails black and cause them to drop off.

During the last fiscal year 10 cosmetic products were forced off the market because they were dangerous.

Sometimes food falls under this dangerous category, food other than the filthy variety. When it was noticed that housewives pinched bread to test freshness something was thought up to make it pinch right.

FDA reveals this something is polyoxyethylene monostearate, a substance whose safety remains questionable after prolonged investigation. Rats given the ingredient have developed bladder stones and tumors.

Two cases against its use have been won by FDA; a third is still pending. This last case is holding up enforcement of the softener ban.

Mrs. Sullivan hopes the time will come when the entire food, drug and cosmetic industry will devise an insignia to indicate that every product on the market has been sampled and found pure.

"Why," she wants to know, "should meat be the only privileged commodity marked US-inspected, the guarantee that it meets government requirements?"

KISS-PROOF RABBIT: Behind scenes at FDA, NEA reporter Patti Simmons watches Rep. Leonor Sullivan apply lipstick to rabbit for ultra-violet test which Dr. John Draize (center), cosmetics chief, will make to see if cosmetic is harmful.

Postal Career Dog

OSCAR, the career dog, who delives the mail.

FABER, Va.—Oscar, a career dog with the U. S. Postal service, is beginning his fourth year as a railroad mail messenger in this mountain community.

He's become so sharp at his job of meeting the trains and carrying the mail pouch to the postoffice nearby that he's picked up an apprentice. Pete, a smaller nondescript black and white dog, now meets each of three daily trains as an understudy.

Oscar is assistant to Willie Ray (Cap) Bowen, 66, who gets paid for meeting the mail trains. Bowen said he didn't train Oscar to do the work. The dog started as a volunteer and just became a regular.

About 10 minutes before train time Oscar shows up on the station platform. He waits until the mail car rolls by and then takes off with it, waiting for the mail pouch to be tossed out.

Oscar grabs the pouch and lugs it—or if it's a heavy one he drags it —to the postoffice about 50 yards from the drop point. He'll only relinquish the mail to three certified friends—his boss, Bowen; Railway Agent Donald Atkins, the owner of Pete, the apprentice, or Postmaster A. T. Davidson.

Any others of Faber's 100 or so population who try to lend a helping hand are greeted by warning growls.

AMERICAN QUEEN—The selection of beauty queens is an old American custom shared in by the Indian long before the arrival of the white man.

But the Aztecs put a different twist to the queen story. The queen did not win a trip to Paris, appear on television, and receive a movie contract. The Aztecs pushed the queens off a cliff into a deep pool of water to appease some pagan god or other.

According to legend, which is about all there is to go by when it comes to things Indian, these maidens were all young, beautiful, and gladly went to their doom. Were they not the most honored among Aztec women?

Present-day tradition calls for something less gruesome, although some of the beauty queens of the past few years have met (according to the old-fashioned phrasing) a fate worse than death. But they always came out ahead anyway, especially in the money department.

HEAP BIG CHOICE — These thoughts come to mind in connection with a recent bit of queen contest drama in New York City.

A New York department store installed 400 Indians in an Indian Village as a promotion stunt. Then the whitemen suggested that the Indians select a queen, and gave an approving nod in the direction of "Little Sunshine" a 19-year-old beauty whose 117 pounds were all in the right places.

But the Indian chiefs, all four of them, said they would pick their own queen and none of tnis anemic white man stuff.

They chose "She Who Is Single," a maiden of 38 summers (and 38 winters also) who weighs in at 172. Statistically she is five feet seven tall, has 44-inch hips, 40-inch bust and 38-inch waist.

The department store people probably wished the Indians were Aztecs. "She Who Is Single" would have made a big splash as a sacrifice to the gods.

PURITAN PANIC— When the Puritans arrived in America, according to an old saying, they first fell upon their knees and then upon the aborigines.

Accustomed to English royalty, the newcomers insisted on calling the Indian chiefs "kings" and their daughters "princesses." Pocahontas could be nothing less than a princess, for example, and according to historians she married an Englishman, died in England, and conducted herself with royal dignity.

The Puritans, however, had neither the time nor inclination to select one of their young women for honor as a beauty queen.

In fact beauty was viewed with considerable suspicion as a snare of the devil, although most of the "witches" put to death in New England were neither young nor beautiful.

Beautiful young women who did get into trouble were openly scorned and secretly envied, as Hawthorne so ably presented in his novel "The Scarlet Letter." But generally speaking the New Englanders kept their young women busy carding wool and raising families.

MISS UNIVERSE—The beauty queen of modern times is a by-product of the industrial age.

She was invented along with the telephone, cotton gin, sewing machine and airplane.

Added impetus was given the queen output with the advent of advertising and high-pressure selling. Manufacturers intent on telling the world about the superiority of their product pictured young women using such things as washing machines and telephones and adding machines.

One of the earliest of such promotions was the "Typewriter Girl" whose wasp waist and Gibson girl pompadour was the height of fashion. Presumably every girl would look like that if her boss would only buy one of those newfangled typewriters for his office.

The bosses and the public looked at the ads, like what they saw, and forthwith the industrial queen age was upon us.

Now there are queens for dairying, peaches, beer, bread, butter and just about anything else that needs or desires free promotion. Often these queens hit the front pages of the nation's newspapers, being pictured feeding the President, or kissing him, or otherwise making themselves helpful.

The Miss America and Miss Universe queen contests have gone a couple steps beyond the purely commercial (or so it says here) to become an Olympics of pulchritude for the sheer sake of honoring bealty.

The result of all this emphasis has created in America, according to Americans, the most beautiful women in the world. But Miss Universe was from Finland and the department store Indians prefer "She Who Is Single" with a 38-inch waist.

Thieves locked a man in his refrigerator while they robbed his delicatessen store. He kept cool!

A Hawaiian dancer canceled a stage engagement because of a wrenched knee. Couldn't she shake it off?

Being short on cash makes it hard to convince some people of your wisdom.

Ford River Reunion Proves Great Success

Between 5,000 and 6,000 people, many from the states of Washington, Delaware, California, Texas and others attended the Ford River Homecoming Festival, sponsored by the Ford River Lions Club, which was held Saturday and Sunday at Ford River.

A talent show was the feature program of the Festival Saturday night. Patsy Hicks, singer, was awarded first prize, while Patsy Lindstrom of Escanaba received second prize. Miss Lindstrom also offered a vocal number. Eight or nine contestants entered the contest

Yesterday afternoon a program was held with John J. Bartella acting as master of ceremonies. Tom Beaton of Escanaba was the afternoon's guest speaker. An accordion solo was presented by Sharon Collins while two Ford River residents, Julius Flath and William Weissert, related stories of former Ford River days. Flath told stories of sports in that community and Weissert told stories of many former Ford River residents.

Birling Exhibition

The Escanaba German band played musical selections during the program, and they also played throughout the afternoon.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the log birling exhibition by Mark Olson of Escanaba and Jim Ogle of Marquette, who placed second and third respectively in the world's championship roleo at Midland recently.

Twenty-five to 30 youths, between the ages of 10 to 17, participated in the log birling contest which was held yesterday afternoon also. The contest was held at the mouth of the Ford River at 3 p. m.

Dance Concludes Program

Providing much excitement to the onlookers was the Ford River Rapids boat race which began at Hyde and ended at Ford River. Winners of several of the contests will be announced tomorrow.

The Festival concluded last evening with a dance on the grounds. William Hansen and his orchestra furnished the music for the evening's entertainment.

Ray LeDuc served as general chairman of the Festival. Other chairmen were Everett Dahlvick, concessions chairman; Herb Flath, finance chairman; Hilding Olson, program chairman; Ralph Nordquist, contest chairman, and Lawrence Kidd, games chairman. Ford River Lions president, Phil Miron, directed the chairman committees. All of the Lions Club members assisted with the many details of the Festival.

"It was a big success," was the statement of Phil Miron and several others.

Camp Harstad Opens Today

The doors of Camp Harstad, Rotary Club Crippled Children's Camp south of Escanaba, were opened this morning to 45 handicapped children from Delta County.

The group is the largest to be accommodated at the summer camp, James Degnan, chairman of the Rotary Club's crippled children's committee, said today.

New floor covering has been installed at the camp this year, the kitchen has been enlarged, and a new fence has been built around the camp. Also added this year were shelter dressing rooms.

The youngsters, 40 of whom are from Escanaba, left by bus at 9:30 a. m., today. Three of the vacationers are from Gladstone and two from the Chemical Plant location.

Counselors for the handicapped youngsters this year are Helen Brackett, Lois Hennessey, Judy Cass, Pat Hicks, Sara Dunathan, Jeannette and Paula Johnston, Lorrice LeDuc and Ruth Breault. All are new to Camp Harstad except Sara Dunathan and Jeannette and Paula Johnston, who were counselors at the camp in previous years.

The Rotary Club has provided summer camp facilities for handicapped children here for many years. Before Camp Harstad was built, the club rented locations for the summer camp, often held in tents in earlier years.

Condition Of Joan Stratton Critical In Pontiac Hospital

Mrs. Michael Fragile of Escanaba and two daughters, Mrs. Brendon Williams and Mrs. Leon Schram, will leave tomorrow for Pontiac to visit Mrs. Irene Stratton and daughter, Joan, who were injured in an automobile accident near Pontiac last week. Mrs. Stratton is another daughter of Mrs. Fragile and is a former resident of Escanaba, now living in Sault Ste. Marie.

Joan sustained a skull fracture, two fractured cheek bones and a fractured jawbone. Her condition is still critical. Mrs. Stratton sustained a fractured wrist, several fractured ribs, cuts and bruises. Another passenger in the car, Sallie Hupka, of Sault Ste. Marie, was killed in the accident.

Collision Kills 3 Near St. Ignace

(By The Associated Press)

At least 36 violent deaths marred Michigan's second Summer weekend.

Five fishermen also were reported missing on Michigan lakes.

Traffic accidents claimed 22 lives and 11 persons drowned. Two died in a plane crash; and a Brighton youngster was crushed to death when a farm tractor overturned on him.

The missing men were John J. Pluger, 26, and Donald Papke, 42, of Grand Rapids, lost Saturday in Lake Michigan near Grand Haven; Henry C. Lewis and Sylvester Slominski, of Saginaw, reported missing Sunday in Saginaw Bay off Bay Port, and Lester Jones, 44, of Ontonagon, missing in Lake Superior on Saturday.

A careening truck that blew a tire and hit three vehicles killed three New York residents near St. Ignace Sunday. Eino Niemi, 45; Lena Elizabeth Niemi, 30, and Lois Helen Niemi, 21, of Groton, N. Y., were killed as their car was rammed head-on by the truck.

Lloyd Moger, 30, and his wife, Ann, 33, drowned Saturday night in Chicagoan Lake near their home in the Iron River area. The couple was trolling when Moger fell into the water and drowned. His wife became hysterical and upset the rescue boat and she too drowned a few minutes later.

Texas Ranchers Watch The Sky And Washington

most—rain and lots of it.

Lack of water already has seared crops and rangelands. The shortage has become so acute that some ranchers say they are going to have to start hauling water.

The prolonged dry spell is reflected in the markets of Fort Worth and Dallas—lots of beef cattle from the drought scorched ranges but less milk and fewer vegetables and fruits.

In many points of East Texas—which at this time of the year normally is one of the nation's biggest supplier of tomatoes—the 1953 tomato crop has been a virtual failure and farmers in that area say that prospects for other crops aren't much better.

Smith County Agent Ben Browning reports East Texas farmers are flooding the local markets with cattle and taking a financial beating. Even choice fat calves are bringing a top of only 16 cents a pound, Browning said.

And it's the same story over most of Texas.

Ridgway Decorated

PARIS (AP)—French President Vincent Auriol awarded the Grand Cross of the French Legion of Honor today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, newly appointed U. S. Army chief of staff.

The decoration was presented while Ridgway was making a farewell visit as NATO's supreme commander in Europe. Ridgway leaves Paris July 17.

QUEENS ALL—These happy finalists, selected from a group of 18 competing for the "Miss Michigan Aviation" title at Lansing last week, will go to Detroit on July 3, where one of them will be picked to reign over the international aviation exposition, July 9-12. Clockwise, from lower left, are: Caroline Crowley, 23, Jackson; Garnet Fisher, 19; Watervliet; Joan Maxwell, 18, Muskegon, winner of a Michigan State college scholarship; Mary Marshall, 19, Royal Oak, an M. S. C. sophomore; Joan Kolar, 21, Alma, ex-M. S. C. student, and Joan DeShambo, 19, Escanaba. (State Journal Photo)

Car And Its Trailer Collide Near Here

When the brakes apparently locked on a housetrailer Sunday morning at 8, on US-2 six miles west of Escanaba, the trailer jackknifed and struck the car pulling it, damaging both vehicles, the sheriff's department said this morning.

The housetrailer knocked down a post, a mailbox and a Daily Press box in front of the house of Leonard Johnson, Escanaba Rte. 1, sheriff's men said.

The car was driven by William Henry Lee, Texas, a commercial driver, the sheriff's department said. Harry Roberts of Chicago, owner of the car, and his wife and son were passengers. No one was hurt.

The trailer was left at the spot, according to the sheriff's department, and the auto was taken to an Escanaba garage.

Socialists May Take Over In Finland

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)— The coalition government of Premier Urho Kekkonen resigned today, and the Socialists were expected to make a bid to take over.

Kekkonen, leader of the Agrarian party, handed his resignation to President Juho Paasikivi this morning.

The outgoing government, a coalition of Agrarians and Socialists, had deadlocked over economic policies. The Socialists favored subsidies to industries while the Agrarians wished to reduce taxes, interest rates and wages.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market poked along today, with prices mixed and activity light.

Word from Washington that there would be no vote today on the excess profits tax further reduced trading. Brokers said investors had hoped for a quick answer on the question.

Dealings were small from the start. On Friday, volume totaled 830,000 shares, the smallest since Aug. 21, 1952.

Firmer groups included the chemicals and televisions. Oils, electrical equipments and buildings were mostly lower. Mixed were the steels, rubbers, motors, distillers, utilities, rails and coppers.

A few stocks were active and higher. Western Union was up around a point at one time.

Among the few issues showing wide changes were Texas & Pacific Railway and Denver & Rio Grande Western, moving ahead a point or so, and Amerada, which lost more than a point.

Stocks ahead fractionally including Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, Shenley, Philco, Radion Corp., American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott, American Cyanamid, Santa Fe, New York Central and Union Pacific.

Lower were Republic Steel, Goodyear, Chrysler, Caterpillar, Public Service Electric & Gas Anaconda, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Southern Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio and Standard Oil, (New Jersey).

Government bonds were steady.

Briefly Told

Condition Same—The condition of Warner Johnson, 17, of Cleveland, Ohio, who suffered a fractured neck Thursday night in a dive at Gladstone beach, continues serious. He is a patient in St. Francis Hospital.

Missing Grand Rapids Boating Pair Hunted On Michigan Shore

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Search for two Grand Rapids men who vanished Saturday on a Spring Lake boat cruise widened today to include miles of the Lake Michigan shore.

State police arranged for an airplane search of the shore line from Grand Haven to Pentwater in the so-far futile hunt for a trace of D. R. Papke and John J. Pluger.

A belated report that the two men earlier Saturday had remarked they might sail their 12-foot outboard motor boat from Spring Lake to Pentwater prompted the broader search.

Papke, 42, is an inspector at Continental Motors, Muskegon. Pluger, 26, is a Grand Rapids printer.

They left Grand Rapids early Saturday, planning to be back by mid-afternoon. They were not believed to have been carrying life preservers, but both were described as strong swimmers.

The weather has been mild in the Grand Haven area except for a sudden big wave Saturday evening that broke on the Lake Michigan beach. It washed across the pier here endangering several fishermen, police said.

Fog Halts Ships

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— A heavy early morning fog today halted all ship traffic through the Soo locks. Some 35 Great Lakes freighters were tied up at lock approaches. The fog was expected to lift by noon today.

High Commissioner To Germany Given Ambassador Rating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Eisenhower has given the personal title of ambassador to Dr. James B. Conant, U. S. high commissioner in Germany.

This is a step toward resumption of full diplomatic relations between this country and Western Germany.

The White House said in its announcement:

"This step has been taken in recognition of developing relations between the United States and the federal republic of Germany and the return of Germany to the family of free and equal nations.

"For the time being Ambassador Conant will continue his position as high commissioner but the United States government looks forward with anticipation to the disappearance of this function as soon as the other states concerned have completed the process of ratifying the contractual agreements and the European Defense Treaty."

Lindbergh In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is in Berlin on a research tour for Pan American World Airways, officials announced today. They said he would be here several days but declined to disclose details of what he is doing.

Fifty years ago, many scientists believed a transatlantic telephone would be impractical because of the 5-hour difference between European and American time.

Accord Reached; Reds Told To Set Truce Signer Day

arranged the breakout. . . ."

Ambassador Present

Clark's letter was addressed to Marshal Kim Il Sung, North Korean commander, and Chinese Forces Commander Peng Teh Huai, both of whom igned the June 20 protest.

It was delivered after the U. N. commander sat in on Robertson's fourth conference with Rhee in his mission to persuade the aging, fiery President to accept a truce.

Also present were U. S. Ambassador to Korea Ellis O. Briggs, Clark's political adviser, Robert Murphy, and South Korea's prime minister, foreign minister and defense minister.

Rhee has demanded a U. S.-South Korean mutual security pact before a truce as his price for signing, but there was no indication whether he got one.

Although a South Korean government spokesman said Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Robertson were near agreement on a pact, there have been no official statements of the conference results.

After the meeting Robertson visited the front briefly, and on his return to Seoul, told newsmen the "talks are proceeding."

In response to questions, he said he had seen Clark's letter to the Communists many times and replied, "yes," when asked if it meant the Allies were going ahead with signing a truce.

Peiping Snarls

He said he was "still in conference" with Rhee and planned to meet with him again Tuesday.

Clark inferred that he, as U. N. commander, was prepared sign an armistice with the Communists regardless of South Korean objections to the armistice.

Twice in his letter he told the Commnuist commanders that the armistice talks sought is "between military commanders" and then added that he considered himself commander of the ROK Army as well as the other United Nations troops.

Clark also called for an immediate meeting of the full - dress truce delegations to pave the way for setting a date for signing the armistice.

Meanwhile, the Red Peiping radio snarled at Rhee, calling him a "pugnacious hound" who has "pushed the armistice to the verge of the precipice."

Gear Plant Reopens After 69-Day Strike

MUNICE, Ind. (AP)—Maintenance men were getting the Warner Gear transmission plant ready today for reopening after its 69-day strike.

CIO United Auto Workers of Local 287 accepted a negotiated contract at a membership meeting Sunday, ending the long tie-up that had cut off transmissions needed by several big auto makers.

The company said the callback of production workers might start Tuesday or Wednesday.

The long strike idled almost 5,000 Warner Gear workers, besides 25,000 laid off by Studebaker, Nash, Willys, International Harvester and other companies using Warner Gear transmissions and overdrives.

The contract gives skilled workers a pay raise of 10 cents an hour. Nineteen cents of a 24-cent cost of living bonus is added permanently to base pay, with the remaining 5 cents subject to adjustment.

Pension increases will be subject to approval of stockholders.

New Michigan Agency Formed At Soo Will Push Upper Peninsula

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Organization of "Greater Michigan, Inc." — an agency to promote the state's progress — was announced here today at a meeting of the State Economic Development Commission.

Officers announced that articles of incorporation were filed today at Lansing.

One of the first activities of the new group, officials said, will be to support a development program for the Upper Peninsula which is expected to result from a new survey of the area by Ebasco Services of New York.

Prominent Names

The incorporators include: Robert P. Briggs of Jackson, executive vice-president of Consumers Power Co., Walker L. Cisler, president of Detroit Edison Co.; John S. Coleman of Detroit, president of Burroughs Corp.; William M. Day of Detroit, general manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.;

Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of Michigan College of Mines; Abbott M. Fox of Iron Mountain, president of Abbott Fox Lumber Co.; Daniel F. Gerber of Fremont, president of Gerber's baby foods; Lee Wilson Hutchins of Grand Rapids, president of the Bank of Lansing; and Clare R. Sperry of Port Huron, president of Sperry department stores.

State Pride Promoted

Objectives of the organization include:

1. — To protect and promote the general welfare and prosperity of the people of Michigan, to increase the recognition and advance the economic position of Michigan among the states and to stimulate free competitive enterprise.

2. — To develop on the part of Michigan people a thorough knowledge and appreciation of Michigan, its assets and its problems, and to encourage a high sense of responsibility for the progress of the state and the commerce and industry upon which the prosperity of its people depends.

3. — To promote state pride and a feeling of unity among Michigan people and communities.

4. — To encourage and maintain a business climate favorable to industrial, commercial, financial, cultural and social growth.

5—To encourage the fullest sound development and wise utilization of the natural and other resources of the state.

Parents Believe Son Killed In Korean War Had No Ammunition

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The parents of an Allentown soldier killed in action in Korea June 19 said today they believe his unit faced an enemy assault without ammunition.

Two days before he was killed 21-year-old Pvt. Kenneth Lease Jr., wrote his parents:

"Well, the truce talks are still going on. It looks good, but not good enough. They must expect it to be over soon because they took all of our ammo yesterday."

The letter arrived only several hours before a Defense Department telegram telling of the soldier's death in action.

The Leases gave photostats of the letter to Rep. Karl C. King (R-Pa). The congressman said he will ask the Department of the Army to make a complete investigation.

Lease was in an infantry company in the 32nd Regiment of the 7th Division.

Vacationing Miners Face Loss Of Jobs As Pits Stay Closed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Unemployment is looming for some of the 400,000 United Mine Workers now vacationing, says John Busarello, president of UMW District No. 5.

The miners are scheduled to go back to the pits July 6. Under terms of a contract negotiated several years ago by UMW President John L. Lewis the diggers got $100 vacation checks.

"I really don't see how some of the operators paid," said Busarello. "Much of the coal industry is in bad shape. We've got a lot of coal above ground and have lost a good many markets for coal in the past few years."

Busarello said he believes many small mines will not reopen immediately when the 10-day vacations end July 6, adding:

"I fear that some large mines will remain closed for awhile, too."

Typhoid In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Four typhoid fever patients died Sunday night, bringing the death toll in Sweden's current epidemic to 22. More than 6,000 persons are hospitalized, many in serious condition.

Mrs. Anderson, 77, Eagle River, Dies, Funeral Tuesday

Mrs. Matilda Anderson, 77, of Eagle River, Wis., died Sunday at the Community Hospital in Phelps, Wis., where she had been a patient the past week.

The mother of Mrs. Harold F. Gustafson of Ensign, she spent her winters with the Gustafson family and was widely known in that community.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Union Church in St. Germain, Wis., and burial will be in the family lot in the cemetery at Conover, Wis.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Gustafson, are the following children: Waldemar of Conover; Mrs. Paul D. (Jenie) Stoltz, Grand Marais, Minn.; Mrs. Victor (Gerda) Malcolm, Detroit; Mrs. James (Inez) England, Hoquiam, Wash., and Ewald of St. Germain. She also leaves 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Anderson died in 1944.

Michigan Convicts Caught In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP — Two men who fled from a Southern Michigan Prison farm June 5 were held here today, after having been arrested Sunday at a road block at Sauk City.

A Madison man reported they abducted him and threatened his life, before stripping him of his clothes and money and releasing him on a rural road near Sauk City.

The pair, Ronald St. Croix, 23, of Utica, Mich., and Kenneth Paul O'Riley, 23, of Ithaca, had walked away from the prison farm where they were working as trusties. Police said they admitted one holdup and stealing 10 to 13 automobiles since.

Fish Have Personalities, New York Diver Insists

By HAL BOYLE

SHELLY BAY, Bermuda (AP) — Fish are more friendly in summer than in winter. A fish also finds it easier to figure out the personality of a person than a person does that of a fish.

"And all fish do have personalities," insists Bronson Hartley, who knowns a number of them well enough to call them by their first names.

Bronson, a tall, slender ex-New Yorker of 33, has spent more than one sixth of his life under water in the seas around Bermuda.

He and his pretty dark-haired Cuban wife, Martica, have taken more than 6,000 tourists for deep sea dives and conducted walks along the ocean floor here in the last five years.

Fascinated By Sea

The hidden life that swarms around the coral reefs has fascinated Bronson since he built his first diving helmet at the age of 11—the helmet he himself still uses.

He spent two years working with Dr. William Beebe, the famous underseas explorer. After completing military service, he went to work for an oil company here, but was unhappy.

"I would hop on my bike and ride out to the ocean, and think, 'gee, what a waste of a wonderful day,' " he recalled.

So he threw up the job, and decided to do what he most wanted to do—find out what really goes on in the strange world beneath the waters.

"There is more to learn here than anyone could find out in many lifetimes," he said.

Martica and he lead happy, arduous lives. But Martica, who steers their boat, "The Arc," and supervises the diving operations, laughs at the idea there is any danger to it.

Taught To Do Tricks

"We have taken down children of 5, and people as old as 83," she said. "It is much safer at the bottom of the ocean than it is on a highway."

Over the years Bronson has made pets of many fish, which he feeds by hand. His favorites are two beautiful angel fish—Helen and Ruth.

"Helen is so tame now she will swim through a hoop for me, and eat out of anybody's hand," he said. "It took me only six months to tame her, but a year to make friends with Ruth.

"I can make two appointments a day with Helen, and she will always be there on time. But Ruth is unpredictable.

"Ruth has an unusual ability. She can sense whether a stranger is neurotic or odd in any way, and will immediately swim away. It never fails.

Menominee Police Seeking Couple In $430 Hotel Theft

MENOMINEE—A fast-moving couple, who registered from New Orleans, La., escaped last night, although Menominee and Marinette police were hot on their trail, after they allegedly robbed Mrs. Mabel Morrison, operator of the Richard Hotel here, of between $430 and $440.

The couple arrived at the hotel about 4 p. m. Thursday and registered as Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Garner, New Orleans. They said they came here in search of work "with the carnival". The woman went into Mrs. Morrison's room to pay for their lodging and observed the hotel proprietor put the money into a brown paper envelope in her dresser.

About an hour later, Mrs. Morrison discovered the envelope was gone and notified police.

Net Air Force Losses For Year, 450 Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has told Congress that its net airplane losses in the fiscal year ending Tuesday equaled "six wings worth of fighters."

With an average of 75 fighters to a wing, that would be about 450 airplanes. Testimony on the losses was contained in a report, released today, on budget hearings of a House appropriations subcommittee.

The Air Force normally does not break down its plane losses by years. It has announced only that combat losses of the Korean War through June 19 total 973 airplanes. The total includes 111 shore-based Marine aircraft and 81 "friendly foreign" planes—aircraft belonging to United Nations Allies. It does not include accidental, non-combat losses.

RAPID CHANGE

Clerk Sounds Alarm To Get Out Of Bank

CHICAGO (AP) — Police from the Burnside station answered a different kind of bank alarm Friday night—a man wanted to get out of a bank.

Police were summoned to the Chatham Bank by a telephone call and found the caller, William H. Rudd, an assistant cashier, peering through the front door.

Rudd said he was locked in while working late checking accounts. At his direction, police got in touch with a bank official who unlocked the doors.

New Polio Vaccine To Get Mass Test

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A mass test of a new polio vaccine on as many as a half million U. S. children may be undertaken this year by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Basil O'Connor, foundation director, voiced that possibility here Friday night in a talk at a six-state meeting of workers for the March of Dimes Campaign, which mainly supports the foundation.

O'Connor said a vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pittsburgh would be used if the experiment is carried out. He added that this vaccine had shown enough promise to warrant such a large-scale test.

The director told the fund workers from Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and the two Dakotas that 1953 was "shaping up as another heavy polio year, perhaps our heaviest."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Judiciary Committee Is Busiest In Senate

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON (CQ)—One of the Senate's 15 standing committees probably could claim that, on the basis of number of bills handled, it does approximately half of the Senate's committee work.

The Senate Judiciary Committee every year handles about 50 per cent of the legislation introduced in the Senate. By May 1, 2,014 Senate measures had been introduced; 1,205 of these had been received by the Judiciary Committee.

Most bills never get beyond the committee stage. But more than half of those that do reach a calendar, for possible Senate consideration, pass through the Judiciary Committee, its staff members say. As of May 18 of this year, the Senate had received 291 written reports from committees—147 of them from Judiciary.

Several factors contribute to Judiciary's heavy "case load." Many of the bills it grinds through are private, rather than public, measures. These usually deal with claims against the government or are for individual immigrants and aliens.

Besides its legislative work ,the Committee passes on Presidential nominations of judges, U. S. district attorneys and top Justice Department officials.

The Senate unit also acts on recommendations of the Judicial Conference, made up of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the 11 senior judges of the U. S. Courts of Appeal.

100 Per Cent Lawyers

By tradition, all members of the Committee are lawyers, and the chairman is the only Member of Congress regularly permitted to see unevaluated FBI reports on nominees before his Committee.

Present Judiciary chairman is William Langer, Republican of North Dakota, who was once ousted as governor of his state and in 1942 was charged by another Senate Committee with past "obstruction of the administration of justice and tampering with court officials." The Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections voted to unseat Langer, but the Senate reversed the group.

Langer succeeded another colorful legislator as chairman, Sen. Pat McCarran, Democrat of Nevada.

The Committee has nine standing subcommittees and four special subcommittees, one of them the Internal Security unit, best known for its probe of Communism in education.

Major activities of the Committee this year involve Constitutional amendments, immigration, improvements in judicial machinery, penitentiaries, anti-trust and monopoly legislation, internal security, administration of the Trading with the Enemy Act and juvenile delinquency.

Puppy's Tail Nipped Off, Just Gradually

NASHVILLE (AP) — James Sadler has offered a $50 reward for proof against the character who has been removing his puppy's tail —gradually.

Sadler came home Tuesday to find Pedro, his half-Chihuahua, half terrier puppy, had lost half his tail.

Wednesday, daughter Sandra phoned him to wail, "it's happened again." Half the remaining tail had been cut off.

By the time Sadler got home Wednesday night the knife-wielder had struck a third time.

Now Pedro has barely enough of a tail left to support a bandage.

NAHMA — Roseann Sargent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sargent, entertained a group of friends at her birthday party Tuesday afternoon. Games were played and a lunch was served at 3:30 p. m. Roseann was remembered by all her friends on the occasion of her sixth birthday.

Those attending the party were Kay and Anne Turek, Joan Sefcik, Gwendolyn Warner, Ricky Schafer, Jerry Abbote, Sharon Hebert, Debby Godin, Colleen Eddie, Rosie, Margie and Jeannette Sargent, Denny and David Beauchamp, Christine and Markie Peterson, and Roseann and Mary Beth Sargent.

Circus Tent Blows Down, Traps 1,000; Only Four Injured

KOKOMO, Ind. (AP) — A sudden thunderstorm collapsed a circus tent here Thursday, but only four of the 1,000 people trapped were injured seriously.

An alarm was given in time for most of the crowd to get out before the tent folded.

Si Ruben, manager of the circus, said there was no panic, though customers screamed as the tent poles broke and the canvas settled slowly on their heads. A heavy rain shower came with the wind.

Circus employes came to the rescue with knives, cutting through the canvas to let the spectators out.

Damage was estimated at $15,000.

Game Seasons Go Unchanged

LANSING (AP)—The Conservation Commission will be asked to make no major changes in small game seasons at its Higgins Lake meeting July 8 and 9.

The department game division has released its recommendations for next fall's hunting seasons except for deer and waterfowl.

The commission will consider the deer season at the August meeting after the current fawn crop can be better assessed. The waterfowl season is set by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The game division will call for an Oct. 20-Nov. 10 pheasant season in the southern lower peninsula, and Oct. 1-Nov. 10 ruffed grouse season in the northern lower peninsula and Upper Peninsula and an Oct. 1-Nov. 10 prairie chicken and sharptail grouse season in the Upper Peninsula.

The special Oct. 1-Oct. 22 prairie chicken and sharptail season in the northern lower peninsula counties of Antrim, Otsego, Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee and Roscommon would be continued under the recommendations.

Also recommended for continuation is the special Oct. 1 to Oct. 10 pheasant season in part of Menominee County.

Other seasons that would remain unchanged are those on rabbits, squirrels and woodchuck.

No changes in bag limits on any species will be proposed except that the season limit on pheasants in Menominee County would be raised from three to four.

'Crazy Horse' in Paris Looks at Life in Chicago

Just off the Champs Elysees in Paris, a little night club called the "Crazy Horse Saloon" is jammed nightly. In the audience are numerous American tourists, who've come to the "Crazy Horse" to see what a Frenchman's idea of Chicago is like. Half of the night's stage program at the little cabaret is devoted to a production called "Chicago Digest." The skit is divided into 11 two-minute scenes on gangsters, molls and the famous detective who solves all the crimes and marries the heroine at the finish. Murders abound in these tableaux, subtitled "Blood in the Sand." Authors Louis Sapa, Albert Vidali and Paul Paviot adapted their portrait of Chicago from a film entitled "Chicago Digest," which was first shown at the Venice Film Festival two years ago.

Grass Silage Is Good U. P. Practice

There are lots of advantages in putting up grass silage in the Upper Peninsula, according to a bulletin released by Joseph L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

He passed along these ideas from Charles J. Little, Michigan State College extension dairyman for the Upper Peninsula:

Grass silage will stretch out the season during which forage can be harvested by making early cutting safe and profitable.

Silage makes the dairy farmer less dependent upon good weather in getting the best feeding value from his hay fields.

It improves roughage quality by earlier cutting. That saves the leaves and the forage has high milk-making ability.

Legume and legume-grass cut during the early bloom stage are ideal for making top quality silage.

Good silage can be made from clover and grass-clover mixtures and grasses.

Oat-pea silage has proved to be a successful emergency silage crop, especially helpful in non-corn growing areas of the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan GOP Steals Williams' Stuff With Queens, Square Dances

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Just when you think you have politics all figured out, somebody comes along and scrambles it all up again.

For years now, we have been told firmly that the difference between the Republicans and Democrats in Michigan is that Gov. Williams is always out calling square dances and crowning queens.

And now, Lt. Gov. Clarence E. Reid, a Republican if there ever was one, is going to call square dances at a Republican gathering today in Utica — and they are going to crown a Republican queen.

Best Crack Ruined

Heavens to Betsy!

It feels like the good firm earth has been jerked right out from under us.

What in tophet are the Republicans going to use in the future as a telling crack against Williams, if they carry on like this?

For years, every time a GOP orator was stumped for something cutting to say about Williams, he could just curl his lip and say with a superior hastiness—"And where was the governor of this great state of Michigan while this was going on, while the commonwealth was at the crossroads? He was calling square dances and crowning a queen."

That really rocked 'em. The Republican audiences loved it.

"Soapy, the square dance caller," they labeled him.

But now, Reid, a roly-poly jolly politician who makes friends wherever he goes, has gone and ruined the best crack the Republicans had against Soapy.

Not A Bad Idea

Reid, a believer in the old political philosophy "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em" is obviously trying to swipe Williams' best act.

But, in doing so, he has shattered the foundation of Republican opposition to the governor.

Of course, the GOP probably could go right on criticising Williams for calling square dances. But if it does that, it must qualify its criticism by making clear that it's just Soapy's style they object to—not Clarence's.

Thus, we may be headed for a political campaign based on a critical discussion of style and form in square dance calling.

On second thought, this might not be a bad idea. It certainly would be more interesting than some of the things they talk about during a campaign.

Let's not have stuffy candidates challenging each other to debates on "the American way" or "creeping socialism vs. human rights."

Strange Bedfellows

We could have candidates for governor challenging each other to a square dance duel. Or to see who can crown a cabbage queen with the most eclat.

Does the governor give you sufficient warning when you go from "allemande left" to "grand right and left?" or does he leave the dummies wandering around out in right field looking for their partners?"

Can the lieutenant governor guide you all across the room dipping for the oyster and diving for the clam without getting in a tangle?

How do you feel about these burning political issues?

It seems that politics not only makes strange bedfellows, but may make strange dance partners, too.

Prizes Prove Spur To Sleepy Churches

By MARGARET PRICE

ATLANTA—Does it sometimes seem to you that church people talk about a better life but do little to improve it?

Do they seem to worry about the state of the savage soul while forgetting that kids in their own town don't have a place to play?

And how about your minister—does he sometimes preach but not practice understanding of all races and creeds?

If the answer is yes, move over to make room for professors in the School of Theology at Emory University, Atlanta.

To wake up sleepy churches, Emory announced a series of awards for progress in three fields: church, community and world. Prizes go to churches in 13 southern states.

The project, known as the Town and Country Church Development Program, grew out of another Emory program begun in 1944. Rural ministers of all denominations are invited to attend a three weeks training school. Emphasis is on the part ministers can play in the agricultural, economic, industrial and social life of their communities.

One of the surprising aspects of the school has been the variety of denominations represented, including the Roman Catholic. Emory is a Methodist supported institution.

While Negroes do not attend the training school—a professor explains "it would violate Georgia's segregation laws"—a similar three weeks' program for Negro ministers is held at Gammon Theological Seminary in Atlanta.

The two schools hold at least one joint session during the program and exchange discussion leaders.

Dean H. V. Trimble, of the Emory theological school, says that "churches like individuals can become self-centered."

To get the church-award program rolling, Associate Prof. Earl Brewer was appointed director. Then the Sears-Roebuck Foundation set aside $12,200.

The rural church in each of the 13 states showing "the most notable record of achievement" gets a $500 award; one of these, the "rural church of the year" receives an additional $500. There are many $100 awards.

The entries, 1,329 of them, represent 36 faiths. If the church people sending in their scrapbooks did nothing but answer the questions in the folder sent them by Emory, a good deal of time would have been spent.

They're asked about recreational facilities in their towns, the number of telephones, whether roads are paved and what the town does to promote better inter-faith, inter-racial and world understanding. Next what's being done to improve community life and what is the church's long range plan?

Some are doing a good deal. Others are taking only groping steps—but in many cases, even these tentative moves represent a good deal when you start from scratch.

In one town, a church committee got every eligible voter to register and arranged to have two doctors visit the town twice a week, the first physicians the community has had.

Another campaigned successfully for better street lights and a cleaner city dump.

One church sent a goat to Korea and one to Okinawa.

One country church in an area not noted for its racial tolerance invited a Negro choir to sing. Another heard two Negro ministers from the Gold Coast of Africa. Summer playgrounds, mobile libraries and United Nations discussion groups have grown up.

Some of these things would have been done anyway but to others the Church Development Program provided a spur.

ON MANEUVERS — Pfc. Wayne Servant, USMC, has completed basic training in San Diego, Calif., and is now on maneuvers at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Servant, 1119 3rd Ave. N., expect him home on leave in about 10 days, when maneuvers have concluded. Pfc. Servant enlisted in the Marines March 17.

Mites Bite Humans As Rats Leave Town

PASADENA, Calif (AP) — Some folks here have the itch.

City Health Officer Wilbur J. Menke Jr., scratching around for an explanation, came up with this:

In a recent city-wide clean-up campaign, called operation junkyard, many substandard structures were pulled down. The pied piper result was that a lot of rats left town.

But rat mites are lingering on. Deprived of their rat hosts, the microscopic insects are attacking humans for their blood diet.

The symptoms are tiny, hives-like irritations on arms, legs, addomen and back—and intense itching.

About a dozen cases have been reported.

Detroit Youths Swim 2½ Miles To Safety When Boat Burns Up

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit youths swam 2½ miles to safety when their small inboard boat caught fire and sank in Lake St. Clair off Grosse Pointe.

One of the youths, Jack Newton, 23 a former high school swimming star, was credited with saving the life of his companion, Brian Sweeney, 25.

Newton told Coast Guard officers a spark from the boat's engine apparently touched off the fire. He said the two jumped into the water and started swimming toward shore.

Newton realized his companion was a poor swimmer and returned to the burning boat to get a life preserver. He gave the life preserver to Sweeney and then helped him ashore.

Newton suffered minor burns.

Explorer Finds Bones Showing Sacrifice Of Baby 4000 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—A Wheaton College archeologist returned from biblical lands Thursday with a skeleton of a baby believed to have been offered as a sacrifice about 4,000 years ago.

Prof. Joseph P. Free said he found the rare relic in the foundation of a wall at Dotham, about 60 miles north of Jerusalem.

"There was a little bowl at the child's mouth and a little jug by its hand, and by one foot was another jug—plenty of provisions for feeding it in the next life," he said.

The 40-year-old professor said the find appeared to confirm biblical stories of child sacrifices.

"We can't prove that this was such a sacrifice, but it does fit the picture," Free said.

Delaware, Nevada, Wyoming, and Vermont each have only one delegate in the House of Representatives.

Leading U. S. Lawyer, Nathan Miller, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Nathan L. Miller, governor of New York from 1921 to 1922 and one of the nation's leading lawyers, died Friday at the age of 84.

Miller was general counsel for U. S. Steel Corp. and a director of the firm since 1925.

He had been active in his profession until last month when he fractured his hip and was confined to his residence at the Hotel Pierre.

Miller defeated the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith to become governor of New York. Two years later the two ran again and this time Smith won.

The last Republican governor of New York until Thomas E. Dewey was elected in 1942, Miller retired from active politics after leaving the State House.

After that he devoted most of his time to law. In addition to U. S. Steel, he was counsel for such firms as the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke Company, Bethlehem Steel and Associated Gas and Electric.

Frederick the Great made his coffee with champagne and often added mustard to give it a stronger taste.

Ebasco Evaluates Forest Resources Of Peninsula

THE EBASCO REPORT
PART II
FOREST INDUSTRIES

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of seven articles summarizing the Engineering Study of the Economic Resources of the Michigan Upper Peninsula sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Commission.

The EBASCO report emphasizes that the greatest opportunities for the industrial and economic development of the Upper Peninsula lie in forestry and forest products. For, Ebasco explains, the basic raw materials — trees — will continually replenish themselves under proper conservation practices.

In making their study of the region's forest resources, the Ebasco consultants obtained much aid of the forestry departments of Michigan's universities and colleges, the conservation department, United States forest service and other public agencies.

The position of the Upper Peninsula forests on the edge of the Lake States forest area resulted in its being the last area in this timber region to attract the lumbermen.

Cutting Of Hardwood

Pine lumbering reached its peak production about 1890 with a high demand for building lumber in the growth of the Midwest. Cutting and sawmilling of pine continued until about 1930. Because of forest fires, the species did not reproduce itself but the new growth reverted mainly to aspen and some jackpine.

The cutting of hardwood was much slower developing in the Upper Peninsula. It was first cut for charcoal wood in the Marquette iron range for the reduction of ore in charcoal furnaces

During the early period of hardwood sawmilling operations, hemlock which occurs in considerable volume in hardwood stands was passed over in logging. However with the passing of the white pine, hemlock has come into its own as a construction lumber and is generally able to compete in the Lake States with southern pine and west woods.

Value Of Products

Markets for hardwood lumber and veneer are largely with factories in Lower Michigan, Wisconsin and adjacent Central States. The hardwood industry is mainly extractive with most of the green lumber and veneer logs shipped out for manufacture elsewhere.

In recent years, the pulp and paper industry has become interested in growing its raw material and a number of Lake States mills have become heavy owners of forest lands in the Upper Peninsula. They have learned to use aspen and are interested, too, in the possibilities of using Upper Peninsula dense hardwoods.

The total value of Upper Peninsula forest products in 1950 was $127,085,000. The industry employed in that year nearly 19,000 persons.

The total land area of the Upper Peninsula is divided as follows: Forested land, 86.8 per cent; urban, industrial and non-forested farmland, 13.0 per cent; and public recreation areas, 0.2 per cent.

Land Ownership

Of this forested land, 98 per cent is in commercial timber stands. From these figures, it can be readily seen that the Upper Peninsula is predominantly a timber producing area and that a major problem of its future economic prosperity will depend on the proper management and effective utilization of its forest resources, the Ebasco report states.

Ownership of the commercial forest lands is divided 43 per cent publicly-owned and 57 per cent privately owned. The largest portion, or 59 per cent, of the public lands is in state ownership. This would indicate the continuing need for Upper Peninsula cooperation with all state agencies concerned in the management, conservation and utilization of these lands. National forests and other federal holdings account for the rest of the public owned lands.

Although the volume of forest products produced annually from public lands is quite small in comparison with that produced on private lands, Ebasco emphasizes that these areas represent a valuable resource for future industrial uses in the Upper Peninsula.

Aspen Expansion

Production of forest products was quite high during World War II and continued so for several years after the war. The trend in the past year or two has been slightly downward from this high production.

But, Ebasco study figures show there is an unfavorable balance between growth and production for the valuable maple and birch hardwoods and for most softwoods in both the western and eastern sections of the U. P. Aspen shows a favorable situation, however, in both sections despite the substantial volume of aspen pulpwood being cut. And the report points out there is an immediate possibility of expanded use of aspen.

Opportunities in forestry and forest products divide into two main classifications — primary wood using industries and secondary wood using industries.

Primary Wood Uses

The primary wood using industries, for the most part, use wood in its initial stage as it is delivered by loggers or use the by-products of initial manufacturing operations.

Included in the primary wood using industries are: logging, sawmilling, pulp and paper, hardboard, veneer and plywood, wood distillation, excelsior board, and tannin extract. In general, these operations require substantial capital investments ranging to more than $1,000,000.

The secondary wood using industries are those that generally manufacture umber, veneer, plywood, and hardboard into semi-finished or finished products. The investment required to set up new plants of this type will range from less than $100,000 upwards to $1,000,000. In some cases, these industries can be integrated with primary wood using plants so that capital investments can be substantially lower than that required for a separate plant.

Secondary Use

The further development of remanufacturing industries can be the most profitable type of industrial promotion. It adds greater dollar value to forest products before they are shipped from the area and provides the greatest man-days of labor per thousand board feet of timber.

Included in this secondary wood using classification are: Dimension stock, boxes and crating, housing, laminated turnings, shoe heels, hardboard products, manufactured wood building materials, industrial bench and table tops, resin-bonded wood particle boards, furniture and furniture parts, novelties and woodenware, corrugated containers and wood briquettes.

According to Ebasco, most of these opportunities in secondary wood using industries would be developed best in the regions where lumbering is most active, the Northwest, West Central, East Central, the western part of the Southwest and the northern part of the eastern region.

Six U. P. Districts

The Ebasco study group divided the Upper Peninsula six geographic districts as follows:

Eastern region — Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa counties

South Central — Delta and Menominee

East Central — Alger and Schoolcraft

West Central — Marquette

Southwest — Dickinson, Iron and Gogebic

Northwest — Baraga, Ontonagon, Houghton, and Keweenaw

Kiln dried lumber is required for most remanufacturing and location of a new industry may depend upon the prior existence of kilns. The manufacture of boxes and crating and lumber core stock for plywood should do well where aspen is most available, in the Eastern, East Central and South Central regions.

Independent Trend

Wood waste products such as briquettes or resin-bonded boards would probably best be integrated with existing industries having adequate quantities of the by-product in any region.

The trend in logging is away from company-owned and operated camps to independent logging contractors. Users of logs and pulpwood prefer not to be involved in logging even if it requires, in some cases, the renting of equipment or the loaning of working capital. Logging is also a part-time operation of farmers who harvest a truckload at a time.

Small second-growth logs, of which a considerable amount is aspen and some dense hardwood, are now available and continually increasing in supply. Whereas facilities for sawing conventional sawlogs are far overexpanded, there is an opportunity to introduce special equipment for small logs, according to the Ebasco report.

Hardwood Timber

New sawmill facilities for conventional sawlogs would not be welcomed by the present industry in any of the regions of the Upper Peninsula, the Ebasco study revealed. But, small-log mills, specializing in aspen, would find raw material most abundant in the Eastern, East Central, and South central regions of the U. P.

Hardwood timber has been progressively more difficult to obtain on the open market during the past decade. There are still, however, considerable acreages of old growth hardwood timber to be harvested. Much of this is in large ownerships, which are either committed to certain outlets or are being passed over because of high stumpage prices.

Second growth hardwood is coming into the supply picture, and some sawmilling and remanufacturing equipment has been set up to handle this type of material.

Red Cross Receives $10,000 From Pope

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The International Red Cross Committee has announced receipt of a gift of $10,000 from Pope Pius XII.

The Vatican secretariat of state advised the committee Pope Pius, "In spite of the innumerable burdens laid upon the Holy See, wished to give tangible token of his good-will towards the international committee."

Ousted Revenue Collector Sent To Prison For Bribe

BOSTON (AP) — Ousted Internal Revenue Collector Denis W. Delaney, 57, pleaded guilty to a bribery indictment in a surprise appearance in Federal Court and was sentenced to a year and a day in jail and fined $5,000.

The first count of the indictment to which Delaney pleaded culpable charged acceptance of a $2,500 bribe in a tax case.

U. S. Atty. Anthony Julian, appearing in the courtroom in person, recommended the year and a day sentence and $5,000 fine and Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. accepted the recommendation.

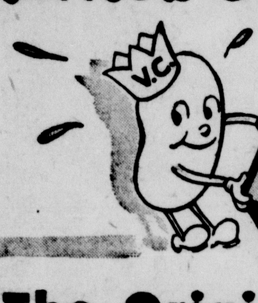

Delaney was ousted as collector by President Truman on July 16, 1951 and in the following January was convicted by a Federal District Court jury of bribery and falsely certifying tax liens had been satisfied.

The conviction subsequently was thrown out by the U. S. Court of Appeals on the ground that widespread publicity prior to Delaney's trial had prejudiced public opinion against him.

The appeals court vacated the District Court's sentence of two years in prison and a $10,500 fine and ordered a new trial.

That trial was still pending when Delaney and his counsel made their unexpected appearance in court today. In the meantime, however, Delaney has been indicted on a charge of income tax evasion.

Miss McCormick Bride, Wedding In Shawano Church

The First Presbyterian Church at Shawano, Wis., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 11 a. m. Saturday, June 20, when Barbara Marie McCormick and Stephen O. Ruelle repeated vows in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Charles Hubanks officiated at the ceremony, Mrs. Victor Czeskleba playing a group of wedding numbers before the service, and "Lohengrin's Wedding March." Franklin Schauder sang "Because" as the attendants entered the church, and "The Lord's Prayer" immediately following the vows and exchange of rings.

Tall candelabra were flanked by baskets of pink and white peonies for the wedding, and peony-tied ribbon streamers decorated the side aisles of the church.

The bride will be remembered in Escanaba as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McCormick now residing in Shawano, and the bridegroom is the son of Joseph B. Ruelle of 4050 Sashabow Road, Drayton Plains, Mich.

The bride's floor length gown of white nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, had long sleeves ending in a point on the hand. Deep scallops of lace formed the upper part of the skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held by a nylon tulle bonnet trimmed with white lilacs. She carried a cascade bouquet of white glamelias and pink rosette roses.

Bridal Attendants

Corrine Ruelle, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Her orchid eyelet organdy gown had a bouffant skirt over crinoline, Peter Pan collar and full puff sleeves. A small bonnet and matching mitts completed her ensemble. She carried a flower-starred loop of salmon carnations. Marjorie Rauhut, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a yellow eyelet organdy gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor, and she carried a loop of yellow carnations. Serving as flower girl was Kari Rauhut, another cousin of the bride. Her dress was yellow eyelet organdy and chiffon, and she wore long braids pinned at the top of her head, covered by a halo of yellow lilacs. She carried a chiffon basket of daisies and rosebuds.

David Ruelle, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Other attendants were Norman Jennings of Ferndale, Mich., Paul Rauhut of Ladysmith, Wis., and the bride's brother, Scott T. McCormick, who served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCormick chose a coral sheer nylon dress with white accessories, and wore a matching camelia corsage.

Dinner Following Service

A dinner was served at the Red Lion Inn at Shawano and a reception will be held at Pontiac, July 11, upon the return of the couple from their honeymoon on the east coast.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rauhut, daughters Kari, Nancy and Marjorie and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. John Rauhut and Misses Marie and Harriet Rauhut, all of Ladysmith; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bennett of Juneau, Wis.; Miss Ann M. Rauhut and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Rauhut of Chicago; Joseph Ruelle the bridegroom's father, Mr. and Mrs. David Ruelle, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nelson, Forest Gibson, Charles Larr, Corbin Ream and Marvin Springs, all of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. George Schnaidt, daughters JoAnne and Margaret and son George Jr. of Royal Oak, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jennings of Ferndale, Mich.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba High School and in 1952 she received her B. S. degree at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette. She is a kindergarten teacher at the Waterford Township Schools at Pontiac. The bridegroom is a 1946 graduate of the Pontiac High school, and is employed as engineer at Waterford Township Schools.

VOWS WERE SPOKEN by Miss Barbara Marie McCormick and Stephen O. Ruelle, in a ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church in Shawano, Wis. The bride and her family formerly lived in Escanaba.

Sodermark-Curran

Miss Lois Sodermark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Sodermark of Ford River, became the bride of Robert Curran, a son of Mrs. Mary Curran, 219 N. 12th St., at a ceremony performed by the Rev. Gustav Lund at Bethany Lutheran parsonage June 20. The bridal couple was attended by the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law.

The reception was held at the Chicken Shack.

The newlyweds are living in Escanaba at 620 S. 16th St.

Today's Recipes

By Cecily Brownstone

Recipes for two other types of cheese cake, both delicious desserts, have been received from Mrs. Irene Peterson of Gladstone. These may be used with or without berries.

DeLuxe Cheese Cake

(12-16 servings, cooky base)

1 cup sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg yolk
½ cup butter

Filling:

2½ pounds cream cheese
1¾ cups sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon vanilla
5 medium eggs
2 egg yolks
¾ cup heavy cream

To make cooky base combine flour, sugar, lemon rind and vanilla. Make well in center and add egg yolk and butter; blend together. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator an hour. Roll about a third of the dough between floured pieces of waxed paper into a circule 9½ inches in diameter and ⅛ inch thick. Place on bottom of spring form pan and trim to fit. Bake in moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, until light golden brown, about 10 minutes. Cool. Butter side of pan and place over filled base. Roll remaining dough into rectangle 4 inches wide and 15 inches long; cut in half lengthwise. Line side of pan with cooky strips.

To prepare filling combine sugar, flour, salt, rinds and vanilla and blend gradually into softened cream cheese, keeping mixture smooth. Add eggs and egg yolks, one at a time, blending well after each addition. Gently stir in cream. Turn into lined pan. Bake in very hot oven, 500 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 200 degrees and continue baking one hour. Cool away from drafts. Remove side of pan and chill. If you use the strawberry, add it after cake has cooled, before chilling.

Strawberry Glaze: Wash and hull one quart strawberries. Crush enough berries to make ½ cup; keep rest whole. Put crushed berries, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup water and 4 teaspoons cornstarch into sauce pan, bring to boil and boil 2 minutes. Stir in 1 teaspoon butter and a few drops of red food coloring. Strain and cool slightly. Arrange whole or halved berries on cheese cake, pour sauce over berries and chill.

Double Ring And Two In One Grow In Popularity

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The trend to double-ring ceremonies is more popular than ever before, and will probably account for 85 per cent of all marriages performed in 1953, jewelry trade sources estimate.

At the same time, inflation is continuing to have an effect on the purse-strings of couples planning marriage. Latest victim of the tightened budget is the bride's engagement ring. The traditional solitaire in brilliant white platinum or palladium is being dispensed with more frequently today solely as an economy move, and with great reluctance, designers point out.

To compensate brides, ring firms have been applying all their style ingenuity in creating wedding bands that will do double-duty, both as a betrothal and marriage ring. Described by some designers as the "two-in-one," and by others as the "bridegroom's budget boon," this style is distinguished most often by its width, domed effect and general design importance. These style accents are helping to make these bands a hit with brides, as is the more liberal use of small diamonds than would be the case if two separate rings were bought, jewelrs say.

Platinum and its sister-metal palladium, newest of the precious jewelry metals which costs about the same as gold, seem to be in greater demand, it is added. Designers usually prefer these metals whenever diamonds are used because the brilliant whiteness of the metal enhances the natural sparkle of the gem. In addition, palladium is noted for its ability to hold stones more securely.

Hydrogen peroxide is a good bleach for light scorch stains. The action of the peroxide is quicker if a few drops of ammonia water are added just before use. Apply the solution to the stain with a medicine dropper or sponge the stain with it, then sponge carefully or rinse with water.

Shirley MaKosky Bride, Wedding In Flat Rock

Miss Shirley MaKosky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MaKosky Sr. of Escanaba Rte. 1 and Lawrence Beauchamp Jr., son of the senior Lawrence Beauchamps of Bark River Rte. 2, spoke their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony June 27 at 9 a. m. at Holy Family Church in Flat Rock. The Rev. Gerard LaMothe solemnized the service at an altar banked with pink and white peonies.

Mrs. Ernest Roberts was organist.

The bride wore a gown of white taffeta with a double skirt of nylon net. The strapless bodice had a bolero of imported lace. Her fingertip angel glow veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a cascade of red roses and white mums tied with long satin streamers.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Patricia LaMarche was maid of honor and Miss Catherine Costell was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink and blue taffeta with matching headdresses and they carried bouquets of snapdragons and carnations. Their rhinestone necklaces were gifts of the bride. Little Carol Jean MaKosky, a niece of the bride, who was flower girl, wore a frock of white nylon and taffeta and carried a miniature colonial bouquet. The ring bearer was Francis Beauchamp, brother of the bridegroom. He carried the rings on a white heart shaped pillow.

Serving as best man was Norbert Beauchamp and Raymond Beauchamp ushered. Both are brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. MaKosky chose a navy blue nylon dress with white accessories. Mrs. Beauchamp wore turquoise nylon with white accessories. Both had corsages of red roses.

Breakfast And Reception

The wedding breakfast for the relatives and close friends was served at the Beauchamp home. A reception for 300 guests was held at the bride's home.

Battle Of The Ballet --- Hippo That Is

The threatened eviction of a famous hippopotamus herd from their native home in Mizima Springs, Kenya, East Africa, aroused public indignation to such a feverish pitch that Kenya's elected government had to stand up and declare themselves pro- or anti-hippopotamus. Engineers wanted to tap the spring to get water to Mombasa, the principal port, which is suffering a severe shortage. But aroused public opinion put a damper on that with a "Save-the-Hippo" campaign. The people want to maintain the famous "Hippo Ballet" which attracts thousands of visitors. Visitors see a resemblance to the hippo ballet danced to the "Dance of the Hours," that was made famous in the movie, "Fantasia." In their "ballet" the Kenya hippos solemnly sink in unision below the surface, then slowly rise again, creating a dramatic splash as they emerge. They repeat it over and over.

"Imagine the nerve of those landlords! Trying to kick us out of our home."

As if awaiting their cue, hippopotami prepare to go through their famous ballet.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Joanne VanBuskirk Is June Bride Of Clifford J. Gillis

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph Annabring, pastor of the Cathedral of Christ The King, Superior, Wis., was celebrant of the 10 a. m. nuptial Mass on Saturday which united in marriage, Miss JoAnne VanBuskirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merton VanBuskirk, 1014 Harrison St., Superior, Wis., and Clifford J. Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gillis, 1114 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone.

Blush pink peonies and white stock decorated the church altars for the occasion. Music of the nuptial mass was sung by the church choir and included the following numbers, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Panis Angelicus" by Franck and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of white slipper satin designed with a chantilly lace redingote, fitted bodice flecked with rhinestones, a peter pan collar edged with tiny rhinestones and a bouffant skirt. A Juliet cap of slipper satin edged with tiny matching rhinestones secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white gladioli and lily of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Geraldine Saladis, the bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Ogren and the flower girl, Bonnie Lou Benson, were dressed alike in gowns of ballerina length orchid tulle and taffeta fashioned with white lace bertha collars underset with orchid taffeta coming slightly over the shoulder to form a boat neckline. They wore matching white lace wristlet gloves and narrow orchid velvet ribbon setting off the waistbalo of matching orchid tulle with tiny flowers nestled in the fullness. Colonial bouquets of blush pink carnations formed their bridal bouquets.

Tony Gillis served his brother as best man and ushering were Gene Timler and James VanBuskirk. The bridegroom and his attendants wore the white dinner jackets and dark trousers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Van Buskirk chose a powder blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of white tuberus begonia. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a white suit with matching accessories. Deep red tuberus begonia formed her corsage.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Wedge room of the Androy hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Wisconsin State college and is a member of the Delta Sigma Sorority. She teaches in Gladstone High school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Gladstone High school and served in the Armed Forces. He is employed at the Midway. The newlyweds will live in Gladstone.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gillis, Tony Gillis, Mrs. Irene Ohlen, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Al Benson and children, Hopkins, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Erickson and children, Baton Rouge, La.

Before her marriage, the bride was honored at several pre-nuptial parties arranged by Miss Geraldine Saladis, Miss Ruth Ogren, Mrs. Arnold Flagstad, Mrs. Richard Parish, Mrs. Walter Davidusk and Mrs. James VanBuskirk.

Mrs. C. J. Lundgren gave the rehearsal dinner.

K. C. Exemplification Held At Houghton

A Knights of Columbus 4th degree exemplification was held Sunday at Houghton under auspices of Msgr. A. J. Rezek, General Assembly and attending from Gladstone were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bracke and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gnat.

Mass was celebrated at St. Ignatius Church, there was a downtown parade at 1:30, the exemplification at Houghton High School in the afternoon and the banquet and Navigator's Ball at the Douglas Hotel. A program of entertainment for the ladies was held in the afternoon.

Disgusted Firemen

NEW YORK (AP)—Two radio car patrolmen saw smoke and sounded an alarm at 4:23 a. m.

Sleepy eyed firemen wheeled up to the scene in an engine and found only a few burning papers, apparently started by a cigarette, under a street grating.

The radio car reported to police headquarters:

"Small fire extinguished by disgusted fire department."

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Memorial Field diamond will take the center stage under full spotlight Thursday night . . . That's when the King and His Court return to Escanaba after a year's absence . . . Pitcher Eddie Feigner and Co. provide first-class entertainment and give you a glimpse of softball as the champions play it . . . Briefly, here's the fantastic record which Feigner has run up in his years on the softball mound . . . Pitched 995 games, winning 879, fanning 16,212 with 81 perfect games, 246 no-hit games and 342 shutouts.

C. V. "Red" Money, athletic director at Northern Michigan College, credits the new grant-in-aid program as the contributing factor in Northern's improved athletic record . . . Purpose of the program is to assist worthy athletes attain an education along with participation in athletics . . . The group at Northern is housed in campus barracks at a nominal cost to the individual . . . The athlete is furnished with a job . . . The grade average for this group was one of the highest for any similar size group on the Northern campus for the first semester last year . . . When operating at a full complement this grant-in-aid plan takes care of 24 student-athletes.

Recently announced plans by August A. Busch Jr., new owner of the St. Louis Cards, for a tremendous expansion of his farm system, indicates that major league baseball may not have gone as completely nuts as appeared for a while . . . His purpose, of course, is to develop players for his Cardinals—a never ending flow of talent to keep new blood in his club.

• • • • •

This seems the first sensible move a major league club owner has made in a long time . . . Most of them have gone "bonus happy," spending fortunes signing promising but untrained and untested talent to fabulous contracts and often cutting corners on farm operations to make up for their foolish expenditures.

• • • • •

To us it certainly seems logical that more and better talent can be developed by a strong farm system in which young players are brought along slowly and carefully rather than by hoisting a kid from high school into the majors in one jump.

Cards Cop First Half With 6-0 Shutout Win

Manistique continued undefeated in Bay de Noc League play yesterday, defeating Garden 6-0, while Rapid River and Trenary posted wins in other loop action.

By virtue of the win, the Cardinals copped the first half championship and will be host team in the league all-star game on July 12. Last year the All-Stars edged Manistique by a 3-2 margin.

Don Carlson pitched Manistique to its seventh straight victory by scattering eight hits. Largest crowd of the season attended the game. Carlson whiffed 15 batters.

Moran went the route for Garden, allowing 12 hits and fanning 10. Makinen poked two doubles and a single to lead Manistique at the plate. Popour, Garden second baseman, led his mates with two hits in four trips.

Dick Rukkila hurled his first complete game for Trenary and tossed a sparkling three-hitter as Trenary won 3-0. Rukkila doled out singles in the first, fifth and ninth innings to post the shutout.

Trenary batters reached Orville Olson for eight hits, including a double by catcher Paul Johnson and two singles by Clarence Flynn. Olson fanned eight. Rukkila carded seven strikeouts and walked only two batsmen.

Vernon Is New All-Star Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators has replaced the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle as the top individual votegetter in the annual All-Star baseball poll.

Vernon took over as ballot leader today with a total of 436,278 for the American League's starting first base position in the annual game with National Leaguers July 14 in Cincinnati.

Mantle, Yankee centerfielder who had held the individual lead since the poll started June 12, was runnerup with 432,112.

The Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers each had three leaders. For the Yanks, it was Mantle, right fielder Hank Bauer, and catcher Yogi Berra. Dodger players leading the vote for their respective positions were Gil Hodges, first base; Peewee Reese, shortstop, and Duke Snider, center field.

Barks Edge Daggett, 8-7, For Seventh Straight Win

Results Yesterday

Bark River 8, Daggett 7.
Hermansville 10, Powers 9.
Wallace 7, Perronville 3.
Foster City 3, Carney-Nadeau 1.

The three top teams in the Tri County baseball league standings stretched their margin in opening games of the second half yesterday afternoon.

Front-running Bark River made it seven in a row by edging a stubborn Daggett crew, 8-7. Foster City topped Carney 3-1 and Wallace tipped Perronville 7-3 to remain tied for second place with five wins and two losses each.

In the remaining game Hermansville rose up to hand Powers its third loss of the season, 10-9.

Dale Erickson fired the win for Bark River, but needed help from manager Joe Rademacher to duck out a Daggett rally.

The Barks scored two in the first and five in the second to take an early 7-0 lead. But Daggett came back with three-run spurts in the fourth and fifth innings and added another in the eighth to tie it at 7-7. Bark River won on a singleton in the top of the ninth.

Rotary Wins To Grab Little League Lead

Rotary took over sole possession

Aotary took over sole possession of first place in the Escanaba Jaycee Little League by coming from behind to defeat Kiwanis 4-3 in nine innings Saturday.

If Rotary can get a win over cellar-dwelling Lions tonight they will gain a berth in the championship playoffs as the first half ends Wednesday.

Dick Bourdeau came off the bench with the bases loaded and no outs to duck a Kiwanis rally. He allowed only one run in that inning and then pitched shutout ball for the remainder of the game.

Trailing 3-0, the Rotes fought back and won in the ninth inning when Jan Morin doubled, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch.

Gene Seguin gave up seven hits over the route for Kiwanis, but they came in clusters when Rotary had men on base.

Week's schedule:

Monday—Lions at Rotary.
Tuesday—Kiwanis at St. Joe.
Wednesday—Rotary at Kiwanis.
Wednesday afternoon — Pitchers' practice.

Betsy Rawls Is Women's Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—By winning the first Women's Open Championship of the United States Golf Association, Betsy Rawls has just about proved that it is possible for a girl to have everything.

Three years ago she was graduated from the University of Texas with a Phi Beta Kappa key and a strong desire to become a top-flight golfer. Now she has the biggest title a woman golfer can win and a comfortable bankroll and good looks, too.

In addition the feminine golfing brigade has a firmly established championship tournament—something that wasn't quite certain until the past few days.

When Miss Rawls beat Jackie Pung of Hawaii and Glasgow, Ky., 71-77 in Sunday's 18-hole title playoff after they had tied at 302 in a thrilling three-way finish Saturday, the continuation of the Women's Open as a USGA tournament was assured. It was the climax of a highly successful experiment.

Despite a rather small entry list, the tournament drew good crowds—more than 2,000 for the playoff—and the players were delighted with the course and the conduct of the event. They'd like to play oftener on real championship courses.

Nelson Posts Par At Highland Club

Jack Nelson matched par at Highland Golf Club Sunday with birdies on two and four, five pars and two bogies. Tis 36 topped a huge field that enjoyed perfect golf weather over the weekend.

John Milkovich posted a 38 Sunday and Tony Cass fired a one-over 37 Friday.

Several Iron Mountain women golfers tested the Highland course Sunday in preparation for the Upper Peninsula Women's championship tournament which will be held there in July.

The U. P. Old Timers tournament wil lalso be staged at Highland this summer, scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 1.

Crowds Swarm Hogan In British Warmups

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—Ben Hogan's popularity today seemed to be hindering him as he warmed up for the British Open championship.

Crowds swarm all over the little Texan everywhere he goes and Sunday's turnout was no exception. A crowd of 3,000 showd up and prevented Hogan and his partners, Lloyd Mangrum, Frank Stranahan and Roberto de Vitcenzo, from putting.

It was the first time Hogan has tried the subsidiary Burnside Course where the qualifying round is to be played.

Richer Breaks Record With 24.03 Time Trial

Jim Richer cracked his own quarter-mile time trial record at the State Fair stock car track Saturday night, touring the oval in 24.03 seconds to clip .02 seconds off his previous mark.

Richer was the leading money winner Saturday night, capturing the final race and second place in his heat along with his top time in the trials. Other top winners were Bob Higgins of Marquette, Joe Gayan of Marinette and John Zawada of Escanaba.

The races were marked by tangles and spin-outs before a fair crowd at the grand stand.

The Escanaba Racing Association announced that the next races will be held on Friday night with the time trials beginning at 8:30 and the heats at 9:30. The change was made so as not to interfere with Fourth of July activities Saturday night.

A feature next Friday will be a women's stock car race, first ever presented at the Escanaba track.

Winners of the five races follow:

First heat—John Zawada, Escanaba; Clem Lundquist, Escanaba; Len Fluette, Marquette; Joe Blazek, Escanaba.

Second heat—Bob Higgins, Marquette; Jim Richer, Iron Mountain; Joe Gayon, Marquette; Lloyd Brown, Manistique.

Third heat—John Hupy, Spalding; Eddie Thorpe, Menominee; Ted Honkala, Ishpeming; Frank Honkala, Ishpeming.

Semi-final—Lundquist, Escanaba; Zawada, Escanaba; Fluette, Marquette; Joe Beauchamp, Escanaba.

Feature—Richer, Kingsford; Higgins, Marquette; Gayan, Marquette; Brown, Manistique.

Musial Is Regaining Fine Hitting Form

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, finally hitting in his usual prolific style, boasted a 10-game batting streak today.

The six-time National League batting champion showed 21 hits in his last 36 at bats (.538) to boost his average from .256 to .301.

Stan had one-for-five in Sunday's game against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Leaders Post Wins In Little Bigger League

Weekend Results

Delta Hardware 6, Paper Co. 2
AFL 6, Insurance Association 5
Elks 4, Kiwanis 3

There were no changes in the Little Bigger League standings over the weekend as the three top teams defeated the three bottom teams in Saturday contests.

Gary Wellman's three-run homer in the third got Delta Hardware off to a good start against Paper Co. and the team went on to a 6-2 victory.

Jack Carlson tripled with the bases loaded in the first inning and added a game-winning double in the fifth to star at the plate as AFL edged Insurance Association 6-5.

A homer with two on by Cookie Swanson in the first inning put the Elks in position to defeat Kiwanis 4-3. Bob Hansen, who started on the mound for Elks, stepped down for Mike Mileski in the second with a 4-0 lead and then came back in to put out the fire in the fifth.

Charley McCarthy won his fourth victory without a loss on a five-hitter for Delta Hardware. He fanned 11. Joe Juetten and Bob Rodman shared mound duty for the losers and gave up four hits. Lester Millette's double scored two of Delta's six runs. Johnson hit safely twice for the losers.

Jim Allen was the batting star for the losing Insurance team, collecting three hits to drive in four runs. John LaBranche notched the win for AFL with Bob Anderson absorbing the defeat.

On the losing Kiwanis mound was Don Merrier with Mike Goymerac behind the plate.

Tonight's schedule:

Insurance Association vs. Delta Hardware at Royce. Dave Valentine will pitch against Bill Ranguette.

Kiwanis vs. Paper Co. at City Diamond. Denis McGinn will pitch against Bob Rodman.

Escanaba Teams Sweep Softball Exhibitions

Escanaba teams swept three exhibition games against Marquette county competition at Memorial Field over the weekend.

Saturday night the Merchants swept both ends of a twin bill against Marquette Pfeiffers, Dewey Hanson trophy winners in Marquette County last week. Last night the Dells topped Negaunee Township 10-4.

The Merchants won the Saturday night opener 1-0 when Pfeiffer pitcher Tom Kirby walked in the winning run with the bases loaded in the last of the seventh. Kirby and Louie Kositzke were hooked up in a fine mound duel with ecah giving up five hits. Kositzke scored the lone run with Eddie Gauthier drawing the key walk.

In the second game the Merchants won 4-3 behind Ken Dufresne who scattered six hits. The Escanaba team scored one in the first and three in the second and then held on as the Pfeiffers narrowed the gap to 4-3 with a singleton in the sixth.

For the Dells, Don Paulin limited Negaunee to four hits and fanned 10. Barney Millette, Paulin and Wally Larsson all poled two hits off John Kivila who went the distance for the visitors.

Clairmonts defeated HiWay Tavern in the opener last night by an 8-7 score, coming from behind, 7-6, in the last of the seventh. Bill Maycunich tied it up with a homer and Duane Menard scored the deciding run on a single by Billy Lancour. Bill Baker had three hits for the winner off Jay Tackman. Bill Rodman tossed the win.

Cubs Belt Bark River 19-1 In Waubung Loop

With Ricky Erickson hurling two-hit ball and fanning 10 batsmen, the Escanaba Cubs yesterday walloped Bark River 19-1 in Waubung League play at the City Diamond.

Erickson's shutout was ruined in the first inning when Bark River's Glovacki, leadoff man, scored after reaching first base on an error. He gave up a double to LeVigne in the sixth and a single to Lesniesk in the eighth.

Coach Al Ness' Cubs backed up Erickson with an eight-hit attack off two Bark River hurlers, Dick Motto and Harry Peltier. After scoring three runs in the first inning, the Cubs sent nine men across the plate in the second frame in which 14 men came to bat.

Frank Katrinski, who scored twice in the big second, registered five runs to lead the Cubs in their plate parade.

Bob Dubord, Gary Hirn and Allan Erickson all collegted a pair of safeties for the winners.

For the youthful Cubs it was the third win of the season against a lone defeat at the hands of Stephenson last week.

Giants Invited To Tour Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The newspaper Yomiuri, owners of the powerful Yomiuri Giants baseball team, said today it has invited the New York Giants to tour Japan this fall in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Commodore Perry's visit to Japan.

Shodi Yasuda, president of Yomiuri, extended the invitation in a letter to President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants.

The U. S. State and Defense departments and the American Embassy in Tokyo approved the plan.

Yomiuri, whose team won the championship of Japan last season, has invited all-star teams to Japan on three occasions since the end of the Pacific war.

Major league stars made up the American teams. Their appearance was to help promote friendship in Japan and to improve Japanese baseball.

Phillies Sign Two Michigan Players

DETROIT (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, who plucked Robin Roberts and Ted Kazanski off Michigan diamonds, have signed a battery of brothers off Detroit sandlots. Bob Milo, 17, a pitcher, and Charles Milo, 23, a catcher.

Each got an estimated $3,000 cash for his signature and a contract with the Phillies' Class D farm club at Bradford, Pa., in the Pony League.

Lopez Calm After Three Wins In Row

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Al Lopez acted like a man who had expected his Cleveland Indians to sweep three from the slumping New York Yankees, he wasn't overly excited. It was as though it happened all the time.

One week ago his Tribe was struggling, 11½ games back. People were talking about a split season and a shaughnessy playoff. Now they were only six games away and coming strong:

Long Way To Go

"The end is too far away," he said in the clubhouse after Early Wynn's three-hitter sank the Yanks with their seventh straight defeat. "We've got close to 90 games to go (to be exact, 88 games). This should be a great help to us but we still have a long way to go.

"Like I said when they were winning those 18 straight, they aren't any super club. They were hotter than a pistol. Now their batters are not getting the hits and their fielding is not as good as it was. But I don't see any signs of any crackup."

Lopez recalled that last year his Indians once were 7½ back but came back in the stretch.

Somebody tried to get him to say, they could forget that talk about the split season now, but he wouldn't go for it.

Stengel Is Quiet

"I don't want to get them mad," he said with a grin.

Tony Cuccinello, one of his coaches, wasn't quite as particular.

"What does Casey (Manager Casey Stengel) have to say now?" he asked. "When they beat us in Cleveland he said they were over the hump. What does he say now?"

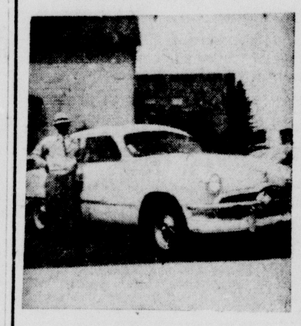

Over in the Yankee Clubhouse, Stengel didn't have much to say. "We're not hitting, pitching and fielding," he commented. Later he was closeted with co-owner Del Webb.

The Yankees were inclined to be philosophical about it.

Eddie Lopat summed it up: "It could be a lot worse. We could be second—or even third."

Suffer Seventh Straight Loss, Yanks Too

Braves Lose League Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

Moaning Milwaukee fans were crying in their beers today over the collapse of their beloved Braves but their gloom was shared by millions of New Yorkers who still cannot understand what has happened to their once high and mighty Yankees.

Seven straight defeats for the world champion Yankees, the same outfit that had rolled up 18 consecutive victories earlier this month to apparently make a shambles of the American League race. A week ago the Yankees led by 11½ games. Today, following their 4-1 defeat at the hands of Cleveland, the Yankees' seemingly insurmountable margin over the Indians has been whittled to six games. A loss to Detroit followed by three losses to Chicago and three to Cleveland did that.

Lose League Lead

Milwaukee's plight is even worse than the Yankees. The Braves, too, dropped their seventh in a row Sunday, suffering an 11-1 rout by Brooklyn to lose first place to the Dodgers. Just seven days ago, they were enjoying a comfortable three-game bulge. But a loss to New York followed by three beatings by Pittsburgh and three more by Brooklyn plummeted them out of the National League lead.

The two league races tightened considerably following Sunday's results. The rampaging White Sox walloped Boston, 13-4, to climb within 6½ games of the Yankees. The third place White Sox now have won seven straight and 14 of their last 16.

Philadelphia's Phillies halted St. Louis' march with an 11-inning 4-3 triumph over the Cardinals to close within four games of the league-leading Dodgers. The Cardinals remained in third place, one game behind the Braves and two in back of Brooklyn.

Giants Pulling Up

New York's fifth place Giants thumped the Chicago Cubs, 12-2, to wind up their Western swing with nine victories in 13 games. Although still in fifth place, the resurging Giants are only 7½ games off the pace.

Cincinnati's improved Redlegs shellacked the Pittsburgh Pirates twice, 4-1 and 9-2. Two American League doubleheaders ended in splits. Philadelphia's Athletics nipped the Browns, 2-1 after St. Louis had won the opener, 4-1. Detroit whipped Washington, 5-1 after the Senators had copped the first game, 5-2.

Al Rosen's three-run homer and Early Wynn's three-hit pitching gave the Indians a sweep of their three-game series with the Yankees. New York had won its previous seven games with Cleveland. Rosen's homer followed singles by Dale Mitchell and Bobby Avila in the first inning when Cleveland knocked Whitey Ford out of the box. Wynn helped win his eighth game with a home run in the fourth.

The losing streak is the longest for the Yanks since the 1945 club dropped nine in a row under Joe McCarthy.

Trucks Posts Win

A five-run fourth inning climaxed by Minnie Minoso's three-run homer was all Virgil Trucks needed to post his second victory since he joined the White Sox two weeks ago. Chicago banged out 18 hits off loser Willard Nixon and three relievers.

The Dodgers really lowered the boom on the Braves. They backed up Russ Meyer's four-hit pitching with 16 hits that included five doubles, two triples and a home run.

Granny Hamner's 11th inning double followed by two infield outs produced the winning Philadelphia run over the Cardinals. Reliefer Hal White, who had allowed only one hit from the sixth to the 11th, was charged with the loss.

Pitcher Carl Scheib singled following catcher Joe Astroth's two-out triple in the ninth to give the A's their 2-1 triumph. Clint Courtney drove in three St. Louis runs with a pair of singles and his first home run of the season to lead the Browns to their first game victory.

Kuenn Keeps Hitting; Tigers Shaking Slump

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn just keeps pounding out those base hits, fulfilling the rosy predictions made about him when the Detroit Tigers signed him off the University of Wisconsin campus last year.

And it might be that the young shortstop, in his first full major league season, is pulling the rest of his last-place team along with him of late.

For Kuenn has hit safely in the last nine games, including Sunday's doubleheader with the Senators at Washington, which Detroit split with a 5-2 loss in the opener and a 5-1 victory in the hightcap.

Won Six Of Nine

And what was the team doing in those nine games? Winning six and losing only three, which is the best string the Tigers have been able to put together all season.

The Bengals, who open a home stand against Cleveland Tuesday night, played .500 ball during their Eastern swing, a remarkable improvement over their .294 clip for the whole season.

Kuenn's hitting, along with Bill Hoeft's eight-hit pitching in Sunday's second game, were the standout performances of the trip.

Harvey collected five hits in all, a double and a single in the first game and a triple and two singles in the second. That gave him five hits for eight times at bat.

Boasts .313 Average

His current streak has raised his batting average to .313. Kuenn has 92 hits, including two home runs. And although he has batted first or second in the Tiger lineup most of the year, he has batted in 20 runs.

Hoeft just missed a shutout in gaining his sixth 1953 victory. Billy, who has lost five this year, led 5-0 going into the ninth, but Jackie Jensen got on base on an error, moved to third on Eddie Yost's double and scored on a fielder's choice.

Steve Gromek, making his second start since the Tigers obtained him from Cleveland, was charged with the defeat in the opener as Walt Masterson held the Tigers to eight hits for his sixth win of the year. Tommy Byrne was loser in the second game.

Great Cage Prospect Sets High Jump Mark

By JERRY LISKA

DAYTON, O. (AP) — It paid off with a world track record for sky-scraping Walt (Buddy) Davis, former Texas A & M basketball star, to remain an amateur.

The six-foot, 8-inch Davis, now owner of the world high jump mark of 6 feet 11½ inches, declined a pro basketball bid after his graduation last year. Davis, 23, set his new record in the National AAU track championship, which ended Saturday with nine new meet marks and two records tied.

There was reason for Davis to stay amateur last year. It enabled him to win the Olympic championship with a record 6 - 8½ leap.

But Davis continued to turn a deaf ear on offers to more richly exploit his fine basketball talent in the pro ranks. He had his sight set on Les Steers' 1941 world high jump record of 6 - 11.

Last year and again this spring, Davis was denied the world record when inefficient officiating or measurement of the take-off level nullified his efforts.

Then came his record smashing leap on his third and final try Saturday.

There is strong suspicion that Davis can clear the magic 7-foot mark, akin to the phantom 4-minute mile in track lore. He barely missed at 7 - ¼ in an anti-climatic effort after his new record Saturday.

Speaking of the 4-minute mile, Wes Santee of Kansas was far behind it in his 4:07.6 winning effort for a new AAU meet record. Santee's start was slow in a cluttered 15-man field and he got no competition when he did open the throttle, winning by 30 yards.

Indianapolis Splits With Charleston Club

By The Associated Press

The league-leading Indianapolis Indians had to settle for a split with lowly Charleston Sunday but matintained their two-game edge in the American Association as contending Toledo and Kansas City also divided doubleheaders.

Seventh-place Charleston beat the Indians 4-1 in a seven-inning opener as Gus Keriazakos hurled a five-hitter. In the second game, Indianapolis handed out a 12-4 shellacking.

Toledo, the Association's runner-up club, continued two games off the Indian pace, losing 4-1 to Columbus, then winning 9-5.

Kansas City took a 15-5 shellacking from Minneapolis in their opener.

Louisville took over fourth place from St. Paul by beating the Saints 8-2 and 6-3.

Favor Middlecoff And Haas In PGA Tourney

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Freddie Haas, two Rebels, were pre-tournament favorites today as golfers warmed up here for the 1953 Professional Golfers Association tournament opening Wednesday and continuing through July 7.

Middlecoff, of Memphis, won the 15,000 Manakiki Open at Cleveland over the weekend. He did it on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff with Ted Kroll.

Haas, of New Orleans, collected two eagles and six birdies in registering a 62, it cracked the course record and the 10-under-par was a PGA record for the year. The great finish, however, gave Haas only a tie for fourth.

Hogan Is Absent

Middlecoff and Haas were early PGA favorites only because Ben Hogan is competing in the British Open. So is Lloyd Mangrum, second to Hogan on the year's money-winning list.

Sam Snead, complaining of an injured hand, will be around in hopes of capturing his fourth PGA title. So will George Fazio, who led the country in sectional qualifying, and defending champion Jim Turnesa.

Gene Sarazen, who won the PGA in 1922-23-33, gave the Birmingham Country Club course a 13-hole tryout in 93-degree weather Sunday, and pronounced it "a great match play course."

Holes Have Character

"Birmingham," he said, "is a course where all the holes have strong character. Any hole here can be messed up, for there is more natural trouble around than even at Oakmont (Pennsylvania), where they played the National Open this year."

The 6,465-yard, par 71 Birmingham course has been "doctored" for the PGA by Robert Trent Jones, who "souped up" the nearby Oakland Hills course for the U.S. Open two years ago.

The toughness of Oakland Hills in 1951 still is a topic wherever top golfers gather to chew the fat.

Two 18-hole qualifying rounds are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday with the low 63 joining Turnesa, in the championship bracket.

Match play begins Friday, cutting the field to 16. From then on, 36-hole matches are staged daily through the finals on Tuesday.

Auto Stealing Orgy Ends Here

A vacation trip through Michigan marked by an orgy of car thefts came to a halt at 5:30 Saturday morning when two lower Michigan youths, riding in their tenth stolen vehicle, drove into a state police roadblock at Blaney Park.

The two youths—Joseph Thomas Bellock, Wayne, and Harry LeRoy Rice, Milford—admitted glibly to state police here Saturday that they had made their entire trip in stolen cars, beginning early Wednesday morning at Milford, near Pontiac. Both youths are 16.

The roadblock which brought an abrupt stop to their car stealing spree had been set up Friday night by state police because of another prisoner escape, this time an inmate of a prison work camp at Paradise. Police said he walked away from the camp Friday.

The youths were driving a car stolen in Engadine when they were halted at the roadblock. Suspicious officers didn't like the looks of the two young men and brought them to Manistique for further questioning.

In addition to the theft of 10 cars the two youths admitted breaking into a car at Naubinway and taking cameras, field glasses and fishing tackle.

The two admitted taking the following cars:

Milford, a black Chevrolet; Howell, a Chevrolet; Gaylord, a Mercury; Indian River, a Chevrolet; Mackinac City, a Chevrolet; Pellston, a Plymouth; Charlevois, a Pontiac, which they merely drove across town, and a Chevrolet; Rudyard, a Ford; Engadine, a Chevrolet.

In most cases, the youths said keys were left in the cars. They denied breaking into gasoline stations to steal gas, saying they drove a stolen car until it ran out of fuel.

Sgt. N. H. Modders, commander of the Manistique state police post, said that the youths, both juveniles, would probably be returned to their home communities for any criminal action preferred against them.

SPLIT PERSONALITY STREET

PARIS (AP)—An example of France's split political personality is to be found in the avenue running west from the suburb of Neuilly, four parts of which have different names. The avenue starts out as the Avenue Gen. Charles de Gaulle, then after a few blocks, becomes the Ave. President Wilson, then changes to the Avenue Georges Clemenceau, then finishes up, as it branches to the right, as the Avenue Josef Stalin.

Miss Sanderson, Donald Jessick Wed In Alabama

Miss Louise Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sanderson, became the bride of Donald Joseph Jessick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jessick of Manistique, in a ceremony performed Sunday June 21, at 2 p. m. in the First Christian Church of Huntsville, Ala.

The vows were read by the Rev. Jack Forstman before an altar decorated with fern, gladiolus, asters and summer mums. White candles burned in tall branched candelabra.

Mrs. Jack Forstman, pianist, and Fred Steele vocalist presented the wedding music. Mr. Steele sang "You Will Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white embroidered organdy over white taffeta, featuring a low-cut neckline with a bertha collar and fitted bodice with covered buttons. Her fingertip length veil fell from a cap of chantilly lace wreathed with baby's breath. She carried a white net fan centered with a yellow-throated white orchid. Her only adornment was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Miss Nina Mae Hester of Auburn, Ala. She wore a yellow embroidered organdy dress, similar in style to that of the bride's. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of yellow carnations backed with green net and tied with green satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Glen Slayton and Mrs. Edward Reid Jr., sister of the bride. They wore mint green embroidered organdy dresses. Their flowers were fan shaped bouquets of green carnations backed with yellow net and tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Tom Coltharp was the best man. Ushers were Edward Reid Jr., and Lee Hale.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sanderson wore a cocoa brown sheer dress with brown and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the Blue Room of the Russell Erskine Hotel. A hand crocheted cloth covered the bride's table, which was centered with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Silver candelabra held white tapers.

The cake was served by Mrs. William Harrell and Mrs. Edward Reid Sr. served the punch. Mrs. William Riehl presided at the bride's book.

Baskets of asters and gladioli decorated the room. Music was furnished during the afternoon by Mrs. William Smith at the piano.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Canada and the Great Lakes, Mrs. Jessick was wearing an ice blue Chantilly lace suit dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return, they will reside in Huntsville.

Mrs. Jessick was graduated from Huntsville High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She attended Florence State College and API at Auburn, Ala., where she majored in chemical engineering. She was a member of Theta Upsilon Sorority and the American Chemical Society of which she was secretary. She is now employed by Thiokol Corporation at Redstone Arsenal.

Mr. Jessick is a graduate of Manistique High School and is a veteran of four years service in the Army. He is now employed at Redstone, in Field Service Division.

Kindness Pays Off For Hotel Employes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sixty Bellevue Stratford Hotel employes know today that kindness has a pay-off.

Dr. W. Oakly Hermance died last June 12 at the age of 80. A heart condition had kept him bedridden during most of the two years he was in the hotel. In his illness hotel employes showed him kindness, his wife said.

So last week she distributed envelopes to bellhops, doormen, desk clerks, elevator operators, elephone girls, maids and waiters. Some contained a $100 bill, others $50—plus a note of appreciation.

Perch Fishing Reported Good

Perch fishing in Manistique River among various old river slips and from the dock of the Girvin Coal and Dock Company is reported exceptionally good this season.

Gangs of boys fishing almost daily in the area have large catches of perch, many of them big ones

One adult angler who uses a boat to fish in the slips area said that perch fishing at the river mouth is the best it has ever been.

"There are lots of fish in the river," he said. "Not only are big catches of perch being made but fishermen are hooking walleyes and other types of fish."

The Manistique River, draining one of the largest watersheds in the state, was once one of the principal fishing spots of the Ojibway Indians.

Slips at the river mouth, dividing the stream into several deep channels, were built during early sawmill days to facilitate shipments of lumber by boat.

New Deal Asked For Willow Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Congress members Ferguson, Potter and Meader have asked Air Force Secretary Talbott to negotiate new "fixed price" aircraft production contracts for the Willow Run plant.

At the same time the Air Force and Kaiser Motors Corp., were seeking to arrange for a gradual shutdown of plane production and the bomber-cargo assembly site but spokesmen admitted that "anything could happen."

Some 12,000 Kaiser employes face job losses since the Air Force cancelled two contracts, totaling more than $400,000,000, for production of C-119 and C-123 planes at Willow Run.

The cancellation was described as "completely independent" of recent Senate hearings on charges that Kaiser Motors overcharged in comparison with Fairchild Aircraft of Maryland, which makes the same planes.

Talbott said Thursday he hopes that aircraft production end at Willow Run can be gradual so the 12,000 workers can have time to find new jobs.

But first, he said, there will be a brief shutdown of production to work out contract terminating details.

Good Old 1934 Days Recalled By FHA, Starting 20th Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Good old days note:

The first Federal Housing Administration insured loan, in August 1934, was for $125. John P. Powers of Cloquet, Minn., used it to paint his house, repair the roof and install a water tank.

In December, 1934, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Newkirk used a $4,800 loan to build the first FHA-financed house in Pompton Lakes, N. J.

The agency recalled these beginnings today in an anniversary statement marking the start of its 20th year.

Kalamazoo Jaywalker Gets Night In Jail

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) —Arrested for "walking a red light," pedestrian Richard Dungey argued with the corner cop that police had no right to arrest him — red light or no red light — for crossing the street whenever and wherever he saw fit.

But Dungey changed his mind after a night in jail and pleaded guilty.

Judge Clark M. Olmstead told Dungey to come back July 21 for sentencing — after Dungey has completed three weeks at a police-conducted traffic safety school.

Reds Predict Peace Will Come July 3

SEOUL (AP) — A Communist front-line propaganda broadcast came up with a new date for a truce signing—July 3.

A loudspeaker broadcast from Chinese Reds on the Western front said:

"High officials already agreed on peace. The truce will be signed on third of July."

Front-line loudspeaker broadcasts previously had predicted a truce first on June 20 and later on June 25.

Banks Say Easing Of Money Market May Be Temporary

BUSINESS MIRROR
By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Bankers point out that the easing in the money market may be only temporary.

Many investors, however, interpret the Federal Reserve Board's action in lowering bank reserve levels as a switch from its previous anti-inflation policy. And they back up their interpretation by bidding up bond and stock prices, in the belief that interest rates won't climb higher and money will be easier to come by.

Treasury Needs Money

In banking circles, however, a second look is being taken today at the Federal Reserve Board's action — in releasig a little more than one billion dollars to the banks which could be used as a basis for five times that amount in loans to business.

Bankers remember that next week the U. S. Treasury is going to start calling in from them around one billion dollars. That will leave them about where they were, they argue.

The Treasury needs the money to pay back funds it had to borrow recently from the Federal Reserve Bank when the Treasury cash balance got uncomforably low. With the June tax payments going into the commercial banks in the form of Treasury deposits, the Treasury can now call in this money and use it to get out of hock to the Federal Reserve.

Under this view, what the Federal Reserve is doing is not a reversal of its earlier policy of making money tight and forcing up interest rates to curb the boom and mildly to deflate the economy.

More To Come

Bankers believe that, instead, the Federal Reserve wants to keep money just about as tight as it is now. This view concedes, of course, that more money is likely to be made available to the banks from time to time as the demand for business loans starts its seasonal climb late next month. But they believe the money will be doled out as it is needed.

Bankers also point out that more money will be needed soon, as the U. S. Treasury goes into the money market to borrow to meet its upcoming deficit. Next week the Treasury will announce how it proposes to raise six billion dollars of new money it must have in the next three months. Before the end of the year its needs may rise to nine billion dollars or more.

Banks, in other words, believe that the increasing demand for money is going to keep the market about as tight as it has been.

Gloria Swanson Wins Lawsuit And A Kiss

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria Swanson not only won a quarter-million-dollar breach of contract suit filed against her by film producer Paul R. Thoma, but he sealed it with a kiss. It happened Thursday in State Supreme Court.

Thoma had been suing for $250,000, half of what he estimated the actress had made in her movie comeback. He said a movie short he made of her in 1946 started her back on the road to film fame.

Justice Henry Clay Greenberg said the substance of the case rested on whether the actress was "satisfied with the short." She said she was not.

Greenberg told out Thoma's suit and the producer hurried over to Miss Swanson and kissed her on the cheek.

"Please," smiled Miss Swanson, "what will your wife say?"

Flint And Detroit High In Prosperity

DETROIT (AP)—Two Michigan cities were rated among the most prosperous communities in the nation in a survey taken by the Institute of Life Insurance of New York.

Flint was rated second in the nation with a median personal income of $3,666, and Detroit third with a median of $3,594. South Bend, Ind., was ranked number one with an average of $3,673.

Flint Tornado Gives Lesson In Mapping State Disaster Aid

FLINT (AP)—An eight-point program to guide Michigan communities in handling natural or wartime disasters was presented at a state-wide "review" of the Flint tornado rescue work.

The conference here was called by Gov. Williams to provide public and private agencies with a study of the laboratory provided by a tornado's devasting attack on Flint and other southern Michigan communities in the past month.

Program Recommended

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, acting state civil defense director, recommended to the city officials attending:

1—That the heads of all city departments be required by their mayors or city managers to submit plans for using their services in a disaster, and that each department head be responsible for training his own employes in disaster operations;

2—That communities have five auxiliary policemen for each 1,000 of population, each officer armed with a nightstick.

3—That each community have five auxiliary firemen for each 1,000 population.

4—That communities have one eight-man rescue squad with truck for each 10,000 of population;

5—That each city establish a civil defense disaster committee composed of the heads of city governmental departments, the Red Cross, Salvation Army and other private service agencies, with a "strong resourceful leader";

Control Center Needed

6—That each city of more than 10,000 population set up a disaster control center, preferably on its outskirts, equipped with large scale maps and organized to coordinate rescue work; cities such as Detroit; Grand Rapids and Flint, Maitland said, should have two control centers, one underground;

7—That each city obtain a mobile trailer-truck radio station for on-the-scene communications and an emergency control center;

8—That communities have an auxiliary power generator mounted on a truck for each hospital, and that additional power units be obtained.

Gen. Maitland said every community should make civil defense part of its city government. He objected that civil defense has been a stepchild in Michigan cities, except Detroit.

Review of Attack

The state OCD director urged each community to inventory all available medical equipment, bed space and heavy equipment for rescue work.

The heavy equipment, such as bulldozers, trucks and derricks, he said, should be operated by competent contractors and not turned over to volunteer civil defense workers.

"What happened at Flint," Gen. Maitland said, "was a terrifying preview of enemy attack on a city."

He said that in the first minutes after a disaster the immediate treatment of victims is a duty of neighbors and that every family should have at least one member who has first aid training.

Rock

Celebrates Birthday

Pat Horgan had 15 of his friends and relatives to a party celebrating his tenth birthday Thursday afternoon. He received many gifts and games were played with honors being awarded throughout the afternoon. A birthday cake and lunch were served by Pat's mother, Mrs. Claire Horgan.

Among those present were Curtis Ramseth, Frank Salmi Jr., Jimmy Larson, Ronnie Lindstrom, Tommy Sharkey, Leslie Viitila and Richard Berg. Out-of-town guests were Jimmy and Johnny Rabideau, Escanaba. Cousins Skipper Herring, Lombard, Ill., and Jane Larson, Chicago, Ill., arrived for the birthday party, and they will spend the remainder of the summer at Rock with Mrs. Horgan.

Hold Funeral

Funeral services of William Rice Sr., Rapid River, were attended at Gladstone Thursday by several Rock people. Among those attending were Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Paul Ramseth, Roger Ramseth, Mrs. John Berg, Mrs. August Lindstrom and Mr. and Mrs. August Larson Jr. Burial was made in the Gardens of Rest Cemetery. The deceased was a stepfather of Mrs. August Larson Jr.

4-H Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the West Rock 4-H Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reino Neimela Wednesday night. A picnic to be held at the Escanaba River June 30 at 7:30 p. m., was planned. Members of the club and their parents are invited. Lunch will be served.

"Share the Fun" festival and speech contest will be held at Negaunee firehall the evening of July 1. Several of the West Rock 4-H club members will participate in the program. The program committee council met after the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Next meeting of the club will be held July 22 at the Ewing Township Hall at 7:30.

Ladies' Aid Meeting

The Rock Union Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Herman Johnson Wednesday night and a discussion about the annual Bible School to be held at the Rock Town Hall July 6 through July 10 was held. Lunch was served following the meeting.
